In 'Operation Click'

School Starts TB Tests

"Operation Click" got under way this morning as a mass tuberculin testing program for some 6,000 teachers, administrators and pupils in East Liverpool schools was started at a general teachers' meeting at Westgate School.

Mrs. Rachel Delaney, a first grade instructor at Pleasant Heights School, was among the 234 teachers receiving the test. Miss Lillian Schroeder, executive director of the Columbiana County Public Health League, applies the painless "six-shooter" to Mrs. Delaney's forearm as Mrs. Nellie McLain, a Red Cross "Gray Lady" looks on. Other teachers line up to await their turn.

Miss Schroeder said this morning 229 public school teachers, two volunteer workers and two Chamber of Commerce members, who were helping at a "coffee hour," received the test at Westgate.

Fourteen faculty members and assistants at St. Aloysius Prochial School also received the test, she said.

Supt. Paul H. Blair asked the health league's assistance in testing program after the Board of Education was unable to secure the immediate testing through the Board of Health.

Approved by the Ohio Department of Health and the Columbiana County Medical Society, the Sterne needle test was developed by a New Jersey firm as an improvement of a "multiple puncture apparatus" devised by Prof. Heaf of England for tuberculin testing.

The gun uses removable cartridges set for skin-deep penetration.

Area Woman, 2 Youths Hurt In 2 Crashes

Passenger Hurlled Against Windshield In Route 14 Mishap

A district woman was injured when her husband's auto was involved in a two-car collision late Monday night on Route 14 near the junction of Route 7 and two youths were hurt when an auto overturned on Shady Side Ave., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mrs. Marlene Hoppel, 25, of R. D. 3 was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible head injury suffered when hurled against the windshield of her husband's car in the Route 14 mishap.

The patrol said her husband, Darryl Hoppel, 26, was driving

Car Damages Building As 2 Flee Officer

Two youths leaped out of a stolen car on Pennsylvania Ave. early today after they noticed they were being trailed by a police cruiser, allowing the driverless auto to crash into a nearby building, police said.

The car stolen from Gilford Burdick, 420 Wedgewood St., was undamaged when it crashed into a building at 1243 Pennsylvania Ave. occupied by the Duquesne Distributing Co., police said. The car's front bumper chipped a brick on the front of the building, officers said.

Officer Paul A. Burson Jr. reported he was driving on Pennsylvania Ave. about 100 feet east of Dewey Ave. this morning at 3:10 when he saw both occupants of

Squeeze On Viet

Kennedy Puts Pressure On Diem

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's public crackdown on the U.S.-supported government of South Viet Nam is aimed primarily at forcing the removal from power of the brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

If President Diem is unwilling or unable to remove quickly his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, U.S. officials indicated today the Kennedy administration will feel compelled to consider other measures.

These measures, it is understood, will include a review of the U.S. aid program with possible cutbacks to follow.

Kennedy told a nationwide CBS television audience in an interview from Hyannis Port, Mass., Monday night that the war against Communist forces in Viet Nam could not be won unless the Diem government makes "a greater effort" to win popular support.

He said that changes in policy "and perhaps in personnel" are needed to produce victory in the struggle in which Viet Nam and the United States are partners.

The President, however, carefully refrained from advocating any specific plan of action for the Vietnamese.

As one official put it: "The Vietnamese will have to clean house themselves; we can't do it for them."

If Kennedy's warning is taken by dissatisfied elements in Saigon as a bid for revolt against the Diem government it would be no great surprise here.

However, officials said, the problem would be much simpler if Diem would handle the situation himself.

Death Takes Holiday

Pleasant Weather Helps Draw Throngs To Parks

A combination of pleasant weather and the traditional last weekend of summer lured throngs to Tri-State District parks over Labor Day.

Temperatures exceeded 80 Monday with the sun appearing frequently through overcast skies but rain that had been forecast held off until last night. Sunday also was clear and sunny.

And death took a holiday—none of the series of area traffic accidents ended in a fatality. Few mishaps marred the weekend.

The Stratton Dam reported a high of 83 yesterday afternoon with no precipitation during the weekend. A light rain fell about 4:50 a. m. today — first of the weekend.

Nate Holbrook, superintendent at Tomlinson Run State Park at Pughtown, estimated 4,000 at the park Labor Day, about a normal turnout for the holiday.

Its pool also closed last night after an attendance of 175 for the holiday and about 50 Saturday.

George Armstrong, superintendent at Raccoon Creek State Park, said attendance for the three-day holiday was 12,757, including 3,300 swimmers, 5,800 on today.

Dr. Sheppard Slated For Hearing On Writ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Sam Sheppard is getting a new hearing—in U.S. District Court, Columbus, possibly late next month.

Sheppard, former osteopath in the Cleveland suburb of Bay Village, is in Ohio Penitentiary. He was sent there in July 1955 after being convicted of second-degree murder in the July 4, 1954, bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn.

Judge Moll G. Underwood ordered Sheppard brought into U.S. District Court sometime in the next few weeks for the hearing on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Move Called By Wallace At Tuskegee

Order Defies Local Board's Actions To Integrate Students

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace, risking federal retaliation, kept the Tuskegee Public School closed by force today despite the local school board's reluctant willingness to obey a federal court desegregation order.

Helmeted state troopers, redoubled in strength and supported for the first time by mounted sheriff's deputies, kept students and teachers out of the school to enforce the governor's orders to postpone the start of the fall term until next Monday.

Students in the consolidated elementary-high school were turned back as they approached the building for the second straight day, even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Thus the 12-grade school was ready for the return of pupils from the summer vacation, but the 215 armed state troopers surrounding the building refused to let them in.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding the troopers, said only Principal E. W. Wadsworth would be admitted to the building.

Even teachers were turned away because, Lingo said, "school is closed and they have no business in there."

Wallace issued a strongly-worded executive order directing the

2 Miners Go Home; Hopes Gone For 3rd

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—David Fellin and Henry Throne return home today after a week in a hospital recuperating from 14 days entombment in a mine cave-in. But fellow miner Louis Bova remains lost and the state virtually has abandoned hope of finding him alive.

Fellin, 58, and Throne, 28, said through a spokesman they were grieved by the failure to find "our buddy."

State authorities, after drilling 15 futile shafts and sending down a man, were exploring three different routes to reach Bova, 54, entombed more than 300 feet underground—the coal mine caved in Aug. 13. Bova, reportedly injured, was separated from Fellin and Throne by debris.

They do not plan to send another man down an escape shaft drilled Sunday because it is unsafe.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said Monday night, "It would take a minimum of 120 days to reach Bova, regardless of the method used."

"It's all over as far as a rescue

East End Car Stolen; Police Find Another

An East End car was reported stolen early today, while police recovered another auto which was reported taken Friday night or early Saturday from a sales agency lot.

Andrew Holtz, 901 St. George St., told police his gray-blue 1957 Buick four-door sedan with license L-1096-C was taken from a parking place in front of his home between 12:15 and 5:27 a. m. today.

A 1953 model two-door sedan which was reported stolen between 9 p. m. Friday and 8 a. m. Saturday from Mackall Motors, 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., was found abandoned on Price St. Ext. by Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. at 11:35 p. m. Sunday, police said. The gasoline tank was empty but the car apparently was undamaged, police said.

Hamilton Due To Quit Police At Wellsville

Chief Hephner Says New Appointee To Give Resignation

Gene K. Hamilton, who was named to the Wellsville police force Aug. 21, apparently has resigned his position.

Police Chief John Hephner said this morning he was told verbally by Hamilton that he is resigning and would submit a letter to the chief and Mayor William Daugherty sometime today.

Chief Hephner reported Hamilton said it was "not what he expected." Hamilton did not work any over the weekend, the chief said.

He failed to report for work Friday or Saturday nights as scheduled, the chief commented.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said he had not received any word on an impending resignation.

Hamilton, who resides at 1235 Center St., was named by Daugherty and Baldasare after a Common Pleas Court ruled they should make an appointment to fill the vacancy created by Joseph Heiney in June. Heiney filed a suit to force the appointment.

Hamilton's appointment came

Speeding Car Injures Boy, Fails To Stop

Hit by a speeding car which failed to stop, a 14-year-old East End boy escaped with minor injuries late Monday night, police reported.

William Howell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howell of Price St. Ext., was treated at City Hospital after he was struck by the car about 10:45 p. m. near his home, officers said. He suffered contusions of the right leg.

The boy told police he was walking north on Price St. Ext. at the city limits when he saw a dark blue or black 1956 auto approaching at a high rate of speed. He said he attempted to leap out of the way, but the auto grazed his right leg, causing him to spin around and fall to the street.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson, who investigated, took the youth to the hospital for treatment.

Two autos were damaged in hit-skip mishaps last night, police said.

Debbie Burrows Crowned Queen

Large crowds attended the annual Wellsville Jaycee Day celebration Monday which was climaxed with the crowning of Miss Debbie Burrows as "Miss Jaycee of 1964" at a dance last night at MacDonald School.

Bill Miller, general chairman, said about 5,000 watched the parade held prior to the dance. Some 75 units participated, including the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce clowns who also operated antique cars and go-carts.

THE STANTON Local High School Band, making its first appearance in new uniforms, won first place in band competition and Lisbon High School placed second.

Miss Burrows, 16, is the daughter of Mrs. Freda Burrows, 314 18th St. She is a junior at Wellsville High School. Superfoods was her sponsor.

The first runnerup was Miss Sandra Reese, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reese, 1179 Oakdale Ave. She is a freshman at Ohio University. Miss Sherrill Lysle, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville, was the second runnerup.

44 Areas Due Surfacing

Firm Begins Street Work; 12 Added Over Weekend

The Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville began work this morning on low-cost surfacing of sections of 44 East Liverpool streets, expecting to apply a prime coat to all the stretches today and complete the job Thursday and Friday.

Sections of 12 streets were added over the weekend in a last-minute rush by householders to participate in the program. The previous total listed sections of 32 streets for improvement.

All the scheduled work is contingent upon favorable weather, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen explained. The Belmont County concern submitted the lowest of three offers when Owen and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet opened bids June 21.

Parking was banned today on all the affected street stretches. Owen said parking also will be banned on all the streets Thursday and Friday to permit the firm to finish the work unimpeded.

Motorists should drive over the streets slowly after the prime coat is applied, the director reiterated. He also repeated a warning that pedestrians should stay off the freshly-primed streets, where possible, to avoid soiling their shoes.

The contractor was scheduled to begin work in the Pleasant Heights area. Tentative plans called for the equipment then to move to the North Side - Beechwood area.

Miss Verna Householder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Householder of Wellsville R. D. 1, was named "Miss Congeniality" by the girls.

MISS BURROWS received a crown, a bouquet of roses, a matched set of luggage, a trophy and other gifts. The runnersup received watches.

Listed among the 10 finalists were Nancy Ann Checkler, Sonya King, Sally DeSenze, Carol Ann Baldwin, Mickey Hamilton and Carroll Ann Ross. Twenty-seven were entered.

Miss Reese was crowned by Miss Kathy Broderick, last year's winner.

Miller said at least 1,500 attended the ceremony at MacDonald. Because there was no room to dance, a larger place will be needed next year.

Some 3,000 attended the community picnic during the afternoon at Hammond Park. All the ice cream and soft drink supplies were consumed, he said.

Toll Reaches Record High Over Holiday

Crashes Claim 545 Across Nation For Labor Day Period

By The Associated Press
The nation's traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend claimed a record toll of deaths for the holiday, soaring far past the previous high of 501.

The count at midnight (local time) Monday, the end of the 78-hour holiday period, showed 545 traffic deaths, topping the previous record set during the Labor Day weekend last year. Related reports were expected to boost the final total.

The slaughter on the highways during the holiday was marked by several multiple-fatal accidents, including six in Michigan. The worst accident occurred Monday when 10 persons lost their lives near Dayton, in southeast Texas.

The Labor Day holiday traffic total marked the third record toll for this year's three major spring and summer holidays. The 130 persons killed on Memorial Day was the highest for a one-day Decoration Day holiday. During the four-day Independence Day holiday, 557 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, a record for a four-day Fourth of July weekend.

In addition to the traffic deaths during the Labor Day holiday, 20 persons lost their lives in boating accidents and 46 others drowned. The over-all accident death toll was 609.

Ohio Lists 16 Dead, 8 Below Predictions

By The Associated Press
The traffic toll on Ohio's highways during the long, 78-hour Labor Day weekend fell below the number of deaths predicted by the state's highway officials.

By early today, at least 16 deaths caused by traffic accidents had been reported to The Associated Press. Officials had predicted 20.

City Stores Arrange Later Hours Tonight

Because they were closed for the holiday Monday virtually all East Liverpool stores will be open tonight until 8:30.

Merchants said the later hours were scheduled principally to accommodate many district families which are completing back-to-school shopping for their youngsters.

Most of the stores expect to follow their usual schedule Wednesday, closing at noon.

GOP Slates Area Dinner For Steubenville Sept. 26

Upper Ohio Valley Republicans will hold a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner Thursday, Sept. 26, at 7 p. m. in the Steubenville Arena, with Rep. William E. Miller of Olcott, N. Y., chairman of the GOP National Committee, as guest speaker.

Co-chairmen of the dinner are H. Nelson Lang, general manager of primary products for the Wheeling Steel Corp., and Atty. Clyde Chalfant of Steubenville. They were named by H. Richard P. Niehoff, chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee.

Niehoff said the dinner will be the major GOP fund-raising event of 1963 for Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

It is designed to help raise funds for the party organization's activities at the local, state and national levels.

John C. Thompson of East Liverpool and George Perrault Jr. of Salem are Columbiana County chairmen for the dinner.

Others are: Eugene Jenks of St. Clairsville, for Belmont County; Walter R. Flenniken of Carrollton, for Carroll County; Sidney Brooks and William Meigs in Cadiz, for Harrison County, and Chalfant and Lang of Steubenville, for Jefferson County.

Rep. Miller represents New York's 40th Congressional District in the House of Representatives.

Headquarters for the dinner is at 243 N. 4th St., Steubenville.

Niehoff commented that it is significant that following Gov. James A. Rhodes' election last year Republicans are bringing their national chairman to the 18th Congressional District.

While the Republican candidate for Congress in 1962 was unsuccessful, Gov. Rhodes carried the five counties of the district by more than 12,000 votes, he pointed out.

In announcing plans for the dinner, he declared that "all Republicans long have known that before there can be a victory there must be sufficient funds to build and maintain a strong political organization."

Pick Up Astronaut In 15 Seconds

New Amphibious Copters To Operate In Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — New amphibious helicopters capable of picking up an astronaut from land or sea in 15 seconds, will operate on the Atlantic missile range in 1964, in time for the first two-man Project Gemini flight scheduled late in the year.

The Air Rescue Service, with headquarters at Orlando Air Force Base, reported it plans to purchase several Sikorsky CH3C twin-turbine helicopters for range use. The Air Force will conduct acceptance tests on the giant whirlybird later this year at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The rescue service's primary mission at Cape Canaveral is to recover nose cones, camera packages dropped from missiles and other space hardware dumped into the Atlantic Ocean. It served as a contingency recovery force to back up the Navy on all six manned space launchings from the Cape and last year played a key role in the rescue of astronaut M. Scott Carpenter when his capsule overshot its landing mark by 200 miles.

With the swift, far-ranging CH3C

the service's manned space recovery role may expand. Presently, the service uses only fixed-wing aircraft equipped with snatching devices to pluck objects from the sea. Such operations usually involve dropping parascues men into the water to attach the wanted object to the hook.

"With a helicopter like this, we could have picked up Gus Grissom in nothing flat," said Sikorsky test pilot Art Murphy.

He referred to astronaut Virgil I. Grissom's swim for life in July 1961, when his escape hatch blew prematurely and his spacecraft sank. Helicopters were overhead, but were unable to retrieve Grissom for more than two minutes. They were not built to land on water and the wash from their whirling blades kept pushing the astronaut's head beneath the waves.

Murphy and test pilot Jim Flynn demonstrated the capability of the new helicopter last week at Lake Corrine near Orlando. In just 15 seconds, they swooped to a landing on the lake, rescued an "injured" man from a life raft and took off.

Job Increases Seen

More Income Predicted For U.S. Home In 1973

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

ECONOMY: More jobs and more income for most American families 10 years hence are part of the generally bright future forecast for the U.S. economy in a National Planning Association study.

Average family income will rise $2,200 from the 1962 figure to $9,300 and the unemployment rate will drop from 5.6 to 4 per cent despite 15 million more workers by 1973, the association's center for economic projections said in a Labor Day forecast.

The Gross National Product will rise to $904 billion, a 63-per-cent increase over 1962, and the nation's population will rise 38 million to 226 million, the study said.

The major dark spot in the generally optimistic report is for the unskilled worker.

There will be a 12.5-million increase in white collar jobs, but only 2.5 million for blue collar workers, the study said.

ANCIENT MARINERS: The Smithsonian Institution reports that Orientals may have crossed the Pacific to South America as long ago as 5,000 years.

"Prehistoric voyages across the Pacific Ocean from southern Japan to the coast of Ecuador—possibly as early as 3000 B.C.—now are postulated on the basis of substantial archeological evidence."

The Smithsonian announced Monday.

Papers by two Smithsonian experts, Betty J. Meggers and Clifford Evans, said tracing the presence of Orientals in Ecuador long before the birth of Christ was based on a modern method of dating ancient relics—in this case, pottery.

EXPORTS: President Kennedy will speak at a White House conference to encourage businessmen to expand U.S. exports, it was announced Monday by Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. The conference will be held Sept. 17-18.

Kennedy, in his message to Congress on the balance of payments July 18, said the purpose of the conference is to emphasize to businessmen "that vigorous action to increase their exports would serve their own private interests as well as the national interest."

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said today that President Kennedy is attempting to improve the U.S. balance of payments with only short-term measures that are no more effective than "building sand castles to protect our shores."

"The imbalance of international payments is getting worse—not better—and it threatens to continue along a course unfavorable to us," Javits said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate.

Javits said reform of the world's monetary system is essential, and proposed an international conference to consider long-range solutions.

Social Party Divided Over Quebec Leaders

GRANBY, Que. (AP)—The Quebec wing of Canada's bickering Social Credit party emerged from a convention here divided into two camps—one supporting a national leader Robert Thompson and the other backing deputy national leader Real Caouette.

The split was expected to leave each with 11 followers in the 265-seat House of Commons and lead to two Social Credit parties in Quebec.

Youth In Car That Hit Lisbon Shop Is Fined

LISBON — James McCaskey, 19, of R. D. 3 was fined $10 and costs Monday by Mayor Dean Stockman for reckless operation after his car jumped the curb Sunday at 10:50 p. m. and damaged the window and frame at a local beauty shop.

McCaskey pleaded guilty and told the court he was making a right turn off E. Lincoln Way into the Public Square and his door flew open. He made a grab for the door and the car jumped the curb into the Lisbonette Beauty Salon.

Police estimated damages of $500 to building, which is owned by Paul Gettig, and $75 to the 1956 sedan.

Bernard M. Harrison, 42, of Mentor forfeited a $10 appearance bond on charges of failing to obey the traffic light on Route 30 in East End.

Soviet Prods Chinese On Hong Kong Threat

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union says Red China should do something about the British colony of Hong Kong on its doorstep if it really opposes imperialism.

"The Chinese leaders and Peking papers are crying out much about the privations of peoples oppressed by imperialism," the Soviet newspaper Izvestia said Monday. "But they display a surprising indifference to the suffering of their compatriots in Hong Kong."

Late Session Expected By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress lingers into the ninth month of its session today and most of the big battles still lie ahead.

Usually by Labor Day, Congress is breezing down the home stretch. This year it has a thicket of legislation to clear away.

Many members fear they'll still be around after the leaves fall and the snow flies and the Christmas decorations go up.

On the long, probably bumpy road ahead are such controversial issues as a tax cut, foreign aid spending, the limited nuclear test-ban treaty—and the civil rights program which promises to trigger a Southern filibuster in the Senate.

The House planned no business this week, continuing until Monday a sort of informal Labor Day recess.

To clear the deck for expected debate next week on the nuclear treaty, the Senate was scheduled to take up President Kennedy's request to broaden the 1962 Manpower Training Act which established a program of vocational schooling to teach skills to unemployed persons or retrain them for new jobs.

The administration considers the program important in its effort to combat unemployment in general and to train Negroes for better jobs.

When the manpower act was passed it provided for federal funds to pay the full cost in the first two years. However, there was to be 50-50 state matching in the third year, starting July 1964.

So far, however, only four states have passed legislation to carry out the matching funds requirement—Connecticut, Kansas, Montana and Tennessee. Legislators of 25 states which have not acted do not even meet in 1964.

The bill before the Senate would not only provide for the federal government to pay the entire cost of the third year but would authorize an additional $161 million in U.S. funds to cover the states' share.

Pay Issue Threatens Britain's Labor Party

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Britain's trade union leaders met behind closed doors today to head off a split over nationwide wage restraint that could damage the Labor party's chances in next year's elections.

National planners want the unions to gear wage demands to the country's economic health. Leaders of the Trades Union Congress, industrial parliament of 8,315,000 British workers—are inclined to agree.

But leaders of several large unions are demanding that no restrictions be placed on their freedom to press wage demands.

25 Buy Stickers In Cryptic 'BOP' Fund Campaign

The meaning behind the cryptic legend "BOP" still remains a mystery today.

The East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce sold 25 stickers at its Ohio River Regatta Sunday and the coffee stop Monday.

But, Robert Brooks, Jaycee president, pointed out today this is not a Junior Chamber project. The Jaycees were asked to sell the stickers at the two events, but were not told what it is behind the movement other than it is a "secret civic mission," he said.

An anonymous committee has launched the sale of buttons and auto bumper placards to raise funds for the project.

Fraternal and veterans' organizations, women's clubs and other groups now will be asked to sell the placards and buttons.

House presented trophies to the winners. A dance will be held at the post Saturday night at 10. Tom Colella's orchestra will play.

A dance will be held for the next three Saturdays. The past commanders' ball will be Sept. 21.

Viet Brother Act

Ngo Dinh Nhu Holds Real Power

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Ngo Dinh Nhu, the man behind the throne in South Viet Nam, lamented recently that "if anybody's oppressed in this country, it's the government."

A month later, Nhu persuaded his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, to declare martial law while Nhu personally ordered troops and his own security police to storm pagodas and break the back of a Buddhist opposition movement that threatened the family regime.

In the wake of this crackdown two weeks ago, Nhu emerged as possibly the most powerful — and most hated — figure in South Viet Nam. He has dominated his brother Diem since their youth, although Diem at 62 is 10 years his senior.

Nhu likes to tell visitors that he is a much misunderstood man. His is a many-faceted personality — mild-mannered, soft-spoken and tough.

Discussing the danger of a possible attempt to overthrow the government, Nhu told a group of military leaders last month there were only two ways of handling a coup — "You smash it like an egg before it is hatched or you join it and exploit it."

Nhu is violently anti-Communist. He has said the only solution for the Red China problem is to atom-bomb Peking.

But an American who has known him for years says Nhu is captivated by Communist techniques and successes.

Communist expressions such as "revisionism" often creep into his conversation.

One of his pet projects is a regular Friday afternoon "self-criticism" session, a Marxist-type confessional for military men and civil servants. It is aimed, Nhu says, at "sweeping all rotten elements out of the government machinery in order to build a happy, equal and free society."

Nhu has a great regard for U.S. industrial and mechanical ingenuity. But he makes no secret of his contempt for American democratic and political processes.

Nhu's favorite headgear for relaxing outdoors is a baseball cap. He also favors American sport shirts and casual sweaters. He likes to play the typically American role of fond husband and boyish father.

Americans, Nhu says, are naive. They are "intoxicated" — a favorite phrase of his — and misinformed by the press. He says Americans don't understand Asians or Communists.

Nhu is reported to have said he would make a deal with his country's arch enemy, Communist North Viet Nam, before he would bow to American pressure. He has repeatedly indicated he has contacts with North Viet Nam.

When a coup appeared threatening last month, Nhu was reported to have said he would order Saigon razed if any attempt were made to overthrow his family's regime.

Where Diem is still generally respected, Nhu is widely disliked, even hated, by Vietnamese who blame him for the government's authoritarian rule. Nhu knows it.

An American who knows him well says, "He is extremely intelligent, even brilliant, but he shows symptoms of irrationality."

Another, more outspoken, says: "Nhu's ideas and philosophy are basically nuts, but if you accept them he makes the rest of it sound beautifully logical."

Nhu once complained that he and his family "cannot speak out too much in our own defense." He hinted darkly that, if they did, they would expose American machinations that would embarrass "our American friends."

"We feel gagged, as if we had a strip of adhesive tape across our lips," he said.

Few Americans consider Nhu gagged. He is a persuasive and exhausting talker. He talks for hours as does Diem.

Many Americans exposed to Nhu say the experience was fascinating — but when it was over they were baffled.

Nhu's pet subject is "personalism," a bewildering mixture of Catholicism, Buddhism and French existentialism, which he says is his basic formula for government.

The Research Institute of America, a U.S. business advisory organization, said last month Nhu had "all but paralyzed the Cabinet and runs the secret apparatus like the Communist party, loyal not to the nation, but to himself."

Some Vietnamese privately call Nhu "the second president."

Nhu heads the secret police and runs the Revolutionary Labor party, a nationwide network of informers and a million-strong military type organization called the Republican Youth Movement.

By far the most important job Nhu holds is the innocent-sounding one of political adviser to his brother, the president.

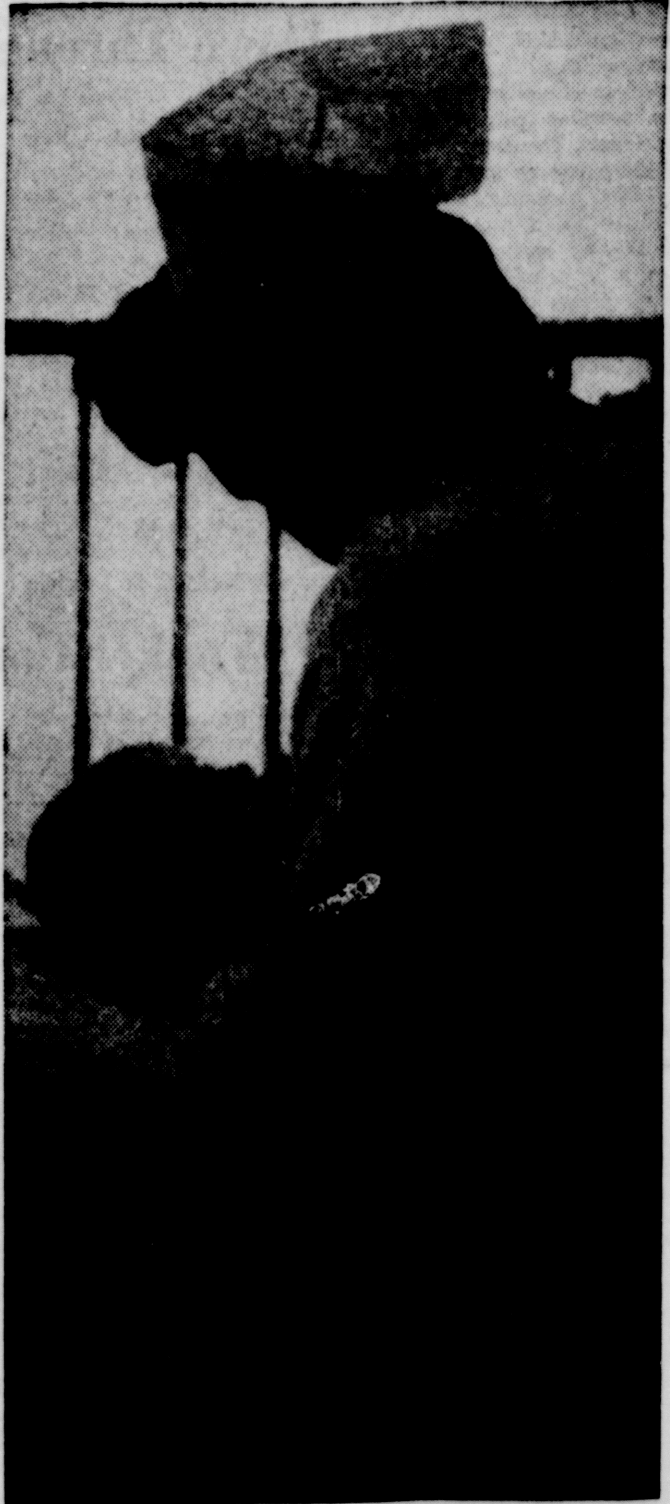

Nhu's influence on Diem, according to family intimates, traces back to their childhood.

Diem has always been regarded as a man of the highest principles, but dreamy and detached. He rules, he says, by "mandate from heaven."

Nhu has occasionally criticized the president as too mild or too weak, but no one outside the family circle has heard Diem criticize Nhu.

According to recent Washington speculation, the United States would like to see Nhu removed from power and his policies abandoned. But many knowledgeable sources in Saigon see little hope that the United States or anyone else can drive a wedge between the two brothers.

Another powerful influence in the palace — some say possibly even more powerful than Nhu — is Nhu's outspoken wife, Diem is a bachelor, and Mrs. Nhu is official hostess and first lady.

496 Enrolled In St. Aloysius

A total of 496 youngsters attended opening of classes this morning at St. Aloysius Parochial School with the enrollment expected to increase slightly, Sister Mary Leonce, principal, said.

A breakdown by grades showed 69, first grade; 66, second; 63, third; 67, fourth; 67, fifth; 65, sixth; 49, seventh, and 50, eighth, the new principal said.

Classes were held for only a half day today with a full schedule of classes to start Wednesday. The cafeteria will not open until Monday, however.

Two new teachers also were on hand. Sister Mary Denismarie is the first grade teacher with Mrs. Harold Watson as the fourth grade instructor.

Guard Prevents Georgia Escape, But Riot Follows

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An escape attempt of three prisoners armed with homemade knives left the big Reidsville State Prison in turmoil today.

A blast from a tower guard's shotgun halted the would-be prison break but State Prison Director Fred Hallford said a major disturbance followed.

"It's a full insurrection," said Hallford from Atlanta where he hurriedly arranged for outside help to restore order.

Forty state troopers were ordered to the prison.

The prison director said two prisoners and a guard were hospitalized as a result of the attempted break.

Hallford estimated that 2,000 of the prison's population of 3,071 were involved in a screaming outburst of fury.

Several guards, he reported, were assaulted with metal posts wrenched from prison beds. None, however, was seriously hurt, he said.

Tear gas was poured into the prison dormitories to subdue the rebellious inmates.

Display Of Threshing Will Be Held Sept. 14

SUMMITVILLE — The third annual old-fashioned threshing demonstration will be held Sept. 14 at the Harry Rogers & Son farm two miles west.

It will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Two new features this year will be shingle making by steam power and two ox teams and a covered wagon.

Lunches will be served by the New Life Class of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church.

Monk Turned Away At U.S. Viet Embassy

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A young Buddhist monk sought refuge in the U.S. Embassy today but was politely told he could not be admitted.

The monk apparently sought to join three other Buddhists, including a top organizer of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, who were granted asylum in the embassy Saturday.

The latest applicant for asylum arrived in gray robes on foot at the embassy chancery. An embassy official explained politely, "We're just too full."

The young monk apparently was not pursued by the police, and one of the conditions of political asylum is that the refugee must be "hotly pursued."

The latest refugee thanked Marine guards and officials anyway, made the traditional lotus flower salute, and walked away. He was not molested as long as he was in sight, and disappeared around a corner.

On Monday, the military governor of Saigon, Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh, told a press conference he intended to demand the return of the three monks in refuge at the embassy. But the State Department in Washington said it planned to continue giving them asylum.

New friction developed in U.S.-South Vietnamese relations because the three monks were given asylum and a government-sponsored newspaper accused the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency of plotting to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

Carburetor deposits!

Just this much can cause stalling, rough idling, gasoline waste!

Boron
cleans carburetors

Boron has a special Carburetor Cleaner that removes carburetor deposits, keeps new deposits from forming!

Only a little deposit inside your carburetor can be a problem for you! Notice the hard ridge of deposit on the walls of the carburetor section above. When the throttle plate is open, as it is here, the deposit is no problem. But when the throttle plate is nearly closed, as it is when you're idling, this amount of deposit is enough to block the air flow to your engine. The result is stalling, rough idling and wasted gasoline! To remove carburetor deposits, a special, patented Carburetor Cleaner has been added to Boron Gasoline. This special Carburetor Cleaner dissolves dirt deposits and washes them away. Because the deposits are hard, this cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a Boron Clean Carburetor!

Once your carburetor is clean, the special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron is so effective that, with regular use, it keeps new deposits from forming. So, always use Boron with its special Carburetor Cleaner!

A Welcome To The New Teachers

The "welcome" that is accorded new school teachers by the public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the East Liverpool Teachers Association takes on added significance each year.

It's difficult to clearly measure the value of a competent teacher to a school system and to a community. Anything that can be done to make such teachers know that they're welcome and wanted serves a very definite worthwhile purpose.

The Chamber get-together can play a most important role in getting things off on the right foot.

It must be a rather lonely feeling — along with the challenge — to take up a teaching position in a new community. Strange surroundings, strange faces and an entirely new concept of life face the teacher.

It's true that their educational backgrounds have been designed to prepare them for such careers, but all the book learning in the world can't erase the human emotions that are involved in the transition from college classroom to the supervision of a classroom in elementary or high school buildings.

The new teacher needs a friend and the Chamber program does much to provide such a friend.

The Review joins with the Chamber in welcoming the instructors. You can do much for us by providing our youngsters with the teaching and guidance to which they are entitled. We hope we in turn can do something for you by providing a community atmosphere which will make your duties seem lighter and more pleasant.

May things go well in your new assignments. Having been pupils yourselves, you should be well aware of the varied problems you will face. Tackle them to the best of your ability and you and the school system and the community should be the better as a result.

Here We Go Again!

With football season and half-time band shows just around the corner, it's time to dust off one of our perennial requests.

We feel as strongly as ever that there should be more marching music — preferably college songs — at football games, with the "Broadway production" numbers left for the stage.

Before band directors, musicians and their parents get up in arms, may we again point out that this in no way is intended as a reflection on the ability of the musicians. We think bands are wonderful and a most important part of any football game. Our thought, however, is that fast-moving, toe-tapping, foot-stomping marching songs liven things and add something to the atmosphere.

Having gotten nowhere in the past with a general appeal, we're willing to compromise: How about one night a season for a half-time show of strictly college songs?

Get Ready, Get Set—Yawn!

The ingenious Japanese, experts at mechanical standardization, have dreamed up a plan they hope will stifle a more difficult kind of production line problem—the human yawn.

The yawning, it seems, is causing some delays on the all-woman assembly line of a Tokyo electric company. So, according to McGraw Hill's American Machinist-Metalworking Manufacturing magazine, the company has initiated, of all things, a yawn break.

Once each hour, the 2,400 women employees step away from their work for 90 seconds of yawning.

Maybe it'll work, but the collective yawn theory brings to mind all sorts of problems.

It isn't hard to yawn when you see someone else doing it — in fact it's sort of contagious. But who leads the way? Did you ever try to yawn on cue? Even worse, what if the yawn impulse hits between breaks? It takes more time and energy to stifle one than it does to open wide and let 'er go.

Topers Tapering Off?

The least effective way to control people's social habits is to pass a law designed to place restrictions on them.

Take the consumption of liquor, for example.

At the rate it is being consumed today, one could reasonably be led to believe the intake is at an all-time high.

Not so. Although it has risen steadily in recent years, per capita consumption of liquor in the U.S. is still significantly below what it averaged in the Prohibition years, 1920 to 1933.

According to Licensed Beverages Industries, Inc., a trade organization, domestic per capita consumption averaged 1.95 gallons in Prohibition. Last year it was 1.37 gallons. The post-war peak — set in 1948

Space Research Pushed

By Dennis Duggan

"We promise no cornucopia of new products and consumer goods." Excerpt from a speech by NASA official at a space conference last May.

NEW YORK

The foregoing quote comes from Louis B. C. Fong, director of the little-known Office of Technology Utilization of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Fong was a lieutenant colonel with the Air Force during the Korean conflict and has been with NASA since March 1962. He was named director of the Office of Technology Utilization last April.

In this job, his task is to make sure that American industry benefits from the "fallout" of space research.

OR, AS HE put it in a speech in Chicago in May before the National Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Space:

"We will attempt to find new ways of facilitating the use by civilian industry of the results of government-financed research."

He is also a man on the spot. There are many who disapprove of this country's space activities, particularly the moonshot. Among the dissenters is former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who last spring said this country was "wasting billions on a dash to the moon."

This is the kind of criticism to which NASA is sensitive. And the Office of Technology Utilization is one answer to its critics.

What NASA's OTU is attempting is to filter the findings of space research into industry. To this end, it has employed several research organizations to evaluate the findings for industrial potential.

AND FONG says his office is not a "political bat" designed to ease pressure on NASA's space programs. The MIT graduate (1935) says the program is attempting to find ways to "disseminate knowledge to all mankind."

But, more specifically, what NASA is trying to do is to enable American companies to benefit from the labors of space research.

One company employed by NASA to evaluate new materials and techniques is Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass. It is one of several research organizations employed by NASA to evaluate innovations springing from space research.

The company was put on NASA's payroll last May. A spokesman for the company said last week "overzealous spokesmen" for the space program have distorted the industrial potential of space research and that they have "given us a black eye."

"WE CURRENTLY ARE evaluating 700 research company's spokesmen. 'but it's still too early to draw any conclusions about their value to industry.'"

It's estimated that less than 1 per cent of the total space budget is being spent by the government to determine what can be passed along to industry.

Thus far, some of the industrial uses of space research have been impressive.

They range from pressurized space suits, developed for astronauts, now being used by hospitals for stroke victims, to electronically rigged helmets used recently by Northwestern University to obtain data about the degree and kind of heat shock received by football players.

The apparatus, located in the crown of the helmet, resembled that used by space experts in telemetering critical data back to Earth from the astronauts.

One of the oldest evidences of Spanish exploration in the south-western part of the United States is the Marcos de Niza Rock in South Mountain Park, in Arizona's famed Valley of the Sun. This rock bears an inscription with the date 1539.

The U. S. Mint in Philadelphia has been in continuous operation since it was established back in 1792.

Making Their Own Bed Of Coals

Will They Be Glad Or Sad Tidings?

By Joseph Dunn

Sometimes before the end of the year newspaper headlines will spell out the good news: Tax cuts for the populace. Psychologically, the glad tidings will evoke ear-to-ear smiles. But, realistically, disappointment is bound to show later.

The tax relief silver lining becomes somewhat tarnished when it is explained to taxpayers in the $3,000 - $10,000 bracket (and these are the masses), that the reduction will come to only $6 - $9 monthly. For most this means that they will find only about $2 extra in their weekly pay envelopes.

The typical reaction to this bit of information is a shrug and a "so-what" attitude. A couple of dollars extra a week "in this day and age," a laborer pointed out "doesn't mean a thing." Besides, he said, "What the government doesn't get, the city will in sales taxes."

Marketing company executives, for the most part, see no great impact in sales stimuli, because of the lower taxes. They, too, point out the reduction is too small to have any great significance in consumer spending.

Wilson Randall, of Booz, Allen & Hamilton, said the small tax reduction would not be noticeable in the spending pattern of a normal family. Therefore, he reasoned, the effect on sales of industrial and consumer products also will be insignificant.

Mr. Randall said multiplying that extra $2 in millions of pay envelopes across the nation certainly comes to a staggering figure.

IRONICALLY, he noted the billions of dollars meant for circulation by the government will probably find their way into savings accounts.

This, he said, goes counter to what the Kennedy administration is trying to achieve — put money into circulation to stimulate purchasing. As a rule, Mr. Randall said, whenever people find extra money in their paychecks, the tendency is to save it.

Cy Chaikin, of Bennett-Chaikin, Inc., agreed with Mr. Randall's conclusion that the extra money would find its way into personal savings accounts. The research executive, however, felt that the tax cut, as small as it is, will prove to be "a morale booster" for most Americans.

"People are always pleased when their income is bettered, no matter how small the amount," he said. Getting a trifle political, Mr. Chaikin added that "the administration will also improve in the public's eye by its tax-cutting action."

Mr. Chaikin admitted the reduction will not mean much to lower-bracket income earners, but he said the higher group will benefit.

"Take a man who earns $25,000 a year. With a family of four, he'll save about $600 a year under the new tax program."

Mr. Chaikin will probably draw the ire of many low-income earners who feel they should get the benefit of tax reductions, but nevertheless the executive felt that lower taxes for the high-salaried man is good because of his mode of living.

"Executives can't even put a nickel away," he said. "They live up to every dollar they make."

THESE DOLLARS, he explained, go into club fees, educating children in fine schools, and "keeping up with the family next door that just bought a new car."

As far as the money that will be spent by lower income earners, Mr. Chaikin said, hard goods and household products "will probably realize the windfall."

According to Ralph Braun, of the Reuben H. Donnelly Corp., "a result of a tax cut would be more discretionary spending power. This, according to economic theory, does not tend to increase spending on clothing, housing and similar goods," he said.

"The new money would probably go to some extent into the so-called luxury field, entertainment, travel and so forth."

Moody's Investors Service points out that enactment of proposed personal income tax cuts would probably prove less of a stimulus to sales of autos and consumer durable than to the rest of the economy.

The company said the $6 - $9 monthly tax relief for the average taxpayer will be mostly absorbed in routine spending. Tax-reduction money from higher income brackets is more likely to go into upgrading of services, savings and investment, the service said.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. J. E. Doughty of East Liverpool was named secretary - treasurer during the fifth annual reunion of the Buzzard family.

Miss Mary Taylor of W. 6th St. returned after two-month tour of the Mediterranean and North Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Laughlin

Miss Fern Mosher of Hillcrest

TEN YEARS AGO — The temperature today reached 101 degrees and several schools dismissed classes early because of the heat. R. Dale Miller of near Lisbon was nominated to the post of lieutenant governor of the 15th Kiwanis division.

Mrs. Harriet Talbott was named president of the Newell Band Parents.

'Yankee Come Hither'

NEW YORK — "Yankee Come Hither" signs soon will be sprouting all over South America.

Not like North Americans? Nonsense, say members of the newly formed South American Tourist Organization, a private enterprise group composed of carriers, travel agents and hotels, and promised support by government tourist offices.

In announcing its goals at an industrywide luncheon meeting in New York, SATO officials noted that formation of a South American travel promotion agency was long overdue, a declaration which should win a prize as the understatement of the year.

As SATO so sadly noted, North American tourists have been flocking with increasing numbers each year to Europe, West Indies and not the Orient and Asia, while tourism from the United States to South of the Border countries actually is dwindling.

While all this has been happening, active promotion and advertising has been conducted by the long-established European Travel Commission, the Caribbean Tourist Association and by that vigorous, PATA, the Pacific Area Travel Association.

At present, American tourists and businessmen together, spend a measly $55 million annually in Latin America, compared to $660 million in Europe and the Mediterranean.

SATO's goal: triple U. S. spending in South America within five years.

SATO's plans: tell the South American story in the United States via promotion and publicity and advertising.

The message: South America is an undiscovered tourist paradise, but the traveler's image has been blurred by distance and distortion.

Mexican Commandments

By Bert Quint

American Businessmen Given Advice

MEXICO CITY

A spokesman for Mexican industry has outlined 12 commandments for American businessmen who want to make money without losing friends in Mexico. His thou-shalts and thou-shalt-nots from a handy primer for foreigners doing business anywhere in Latin America.

Juan Sanchez Navarro, president of the Federation of Mexican Industrial Chambers of Commerce, laid it on the line to the Americans during a speech before the American Pro-Mexico Committee, a group of U.S. businessmen dedicated first of all to making a living here and second to furthering friendship between the two countries.

The business gospel of Mr. Sanchez Navarro for foreigners boils down to the following points, with the parentheses containing opinions of the reporter and not necessarily of Mr. Sanchez Navarro:

1. Learn the language. (He was too polite to say it, but many Americans who have lived here for a generation have Spanish vocabularies limited to "tamale," "gracias" and "peso.")

2. Learn the history. (Mexico is a complex country and a country of complexes. Find out who the Mexicans are, why they are the way they are, what their economic and legal traditions are. Then, maybe you will be able to understand why things are different here than in the United States and learn to live with the differences.)

3. Associate foreign capital with Mexican capital. (While the law does not usually demand it, it's safer to come in as minority owners of a business. You are thus more likely to get the benefits and less likely to be hurt by new legislation.)

4. It's considered hardly sporting for "subsidiary companies or branches in Mexico to acquire machinery from the parent companies at high prices (which) results in the investment becoming artificial, the making of equally artificial charges for depreciation, and placing the company in a privileged position to compete with companies, having real investments."

5. Thou shalt not limit the acquisition of raw materials and semi-manufactured products to some determined region or some foreign company. (Mexico wants to diversify its trade and markets) if American affiliates here buy only from the U.S., countries like Japan and West Germany, for example, will be less willing to buy from Mexico.)

6. Go easy on technical assistance contracts with foreigners. (If foreign experts come in as advisers and take out high salaries or percentages, this represents a flight of Mexican capital.)

7. Choose with care the executives and technicians you send abroad. Make sure they are aware of the problems of the country they are going to and also have its interests at heart as well as the interests of their companies.

8. Do not go into a market figuring you can afford to lose money for a while and that the parent company will absorb the loss. (This makes it tough on the domestic companies here which have no parent firms to fall back on.)

9. Do not cut the prices established by existing companies. (Competition here is considered harmful to infant industries in an economy that is trying to diversify and grow. If you want to compete, try to make a better product for the same price rather than an equal product more cheaply.)

10. Aim your advertising and promotional campaigns at increasing rather than displacing the market.

11. Show no favoritism to fellow Americans. Train Mexicans to take over the key positions in this country. (Not only are Mexicans sensitive about what they consider "gringos" coming in and getting the plush jobs in their country, but they need desperately to build their own managerial class. This training helps and is appreciated.)

12. Keep out of Mexican politics, but do not keep out of Mexican life. (Americans tend to form their own "colonies" in Mexico. There are American residential districts, an American Club, an American Society and a dozen other American thistles and thorns where Mexicans are regarded as second-class citizens in their own country. Needless to say, they don't like it. In truth, however, it should also be pointed out that most Mexicans are reluctant to take foreigners into their own circles.)

Vanishing Artisans

By Jo-Ann Price

In the basement of St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church, at Fifth Ave. and 53rd St., New York City, an elderly stone carver, Silvio Bianchi, sat on a bench, sipped beer on his lunch hour and looked around him at enormous silent plaster models of saints and doctors of christianity.

He sighed.

"We have not enough work to keep us busy. I learned my trade in Trieste and I do it 43 years. In 1927 we have 175 members of our union. Now there are just 12. Two years ago we affiliated with the stone cutters . . . please . . . put in the newspaper we do not have enough work to keep busy all year."

Mr. Bianchi was joined by George Giribaldi, who came to this country in 1925, at a time when the artistry of stone carvers and sculptors was in demand.

"Now they build big glass boxes," he said of churches and the construction industry and the vanishing art of stone carving.

Mr. Bianchi, Mr. Giribaldi and an ornamental plaster worker, Peter Becker, are among the employees of the Rochette & Parzini Corp., sculptors who have been engaged for months in creating in limestone the many statues and symbols which will fill the empty niches on the face of St. Thomas' Church.

THE $350,000 operation, a memorial to George B. Scott, a wealthy New Yorker who died in 1912, is expected to be finished by Oct. 29, the date of a parish dinner.

A tour of the edifice revealed some of the interesting details and human problems which have confronted the artists, clergy and construction men involved.

The St. Thomas facade, for example, has required the carving of 40 statues of varying dimensions so that the passer-by looking upward to the bent head of Christ on the crucifix has the impression that all of the figures are the same, life size.

The statues are the creation of Theodore C. Barbarossa, a Boston sculptor who has been aided by one of this country's top church art experts, the Rev. Canon Edward N. West, sacristan of the cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Canon West explained that each sculpture has had to be translated from an over-all plan, to a clay model, to a full-size plaster model and finally into limestone.

It is in the limestone version, with its rougher texture, that a true stone carver's interpretative art is best shown. The underemployed carvers who have been at work on the church facade are "just about the best in the world," the clergyman said.

The figures which will adorn St. Thomas church are simple in outline, Canon West noted, because "they must speak for modern man and modern man is not fussy."

Once the scaffolding is removed, one studying the church face will be able to discover a lesson in stone. Reading upward, Canon West said, "You start with the core of the Christian religion, the great figures of the church with Christ as King."

SURROUNDING the rose window are the symbols of the evangelists. Above the windows are St. Edward the confessor and several figures of modern anglican history, including William Temple, 98th archbishop of Canterbury and Samuel Provost, first bishop of New York. A group at the top depicts Christ on the cross, with Mary and John at either side.

The motifs in 33 bosses in the main portal include religious symbolism as well as various occupations. A keystone boss on the theme of "social service" includes emblems of the Salvation Army, Police Athletic League, Red Cross and Visiting Nurse Association.

Of the P.A.L. symbol, Canon West commented that "most people think police exist simply to suppress crime. They forget that they exist also to promote virtue, if you will, such as good manners and cleanliness and all the things a big city must have to run smoothly."

The exact origin of table tennis is not known, but it was first called "whiff 'n' waff" when a light ball of knitted web was employed. Then, early in this century, an Englishman came up with a hollow celluloid ball, and the name of "ping - pong" was attached to the game for the sound made by the ball first striking the paddle and then the table.

Barn Blaze Cause Sought

The exact cause of a fire which leveled a large barn in the Glenmoor area Sunday night still is under investigation, Glenmoor firemen said today.

It was first reported the blaze was caused by spontaneous combustion.

The blaze was discovered by Dr. Marvin Kinsey, who was just leaving to mow hay when he spotted the flames. The Division of Forestry plane noticed the fire about the same time.

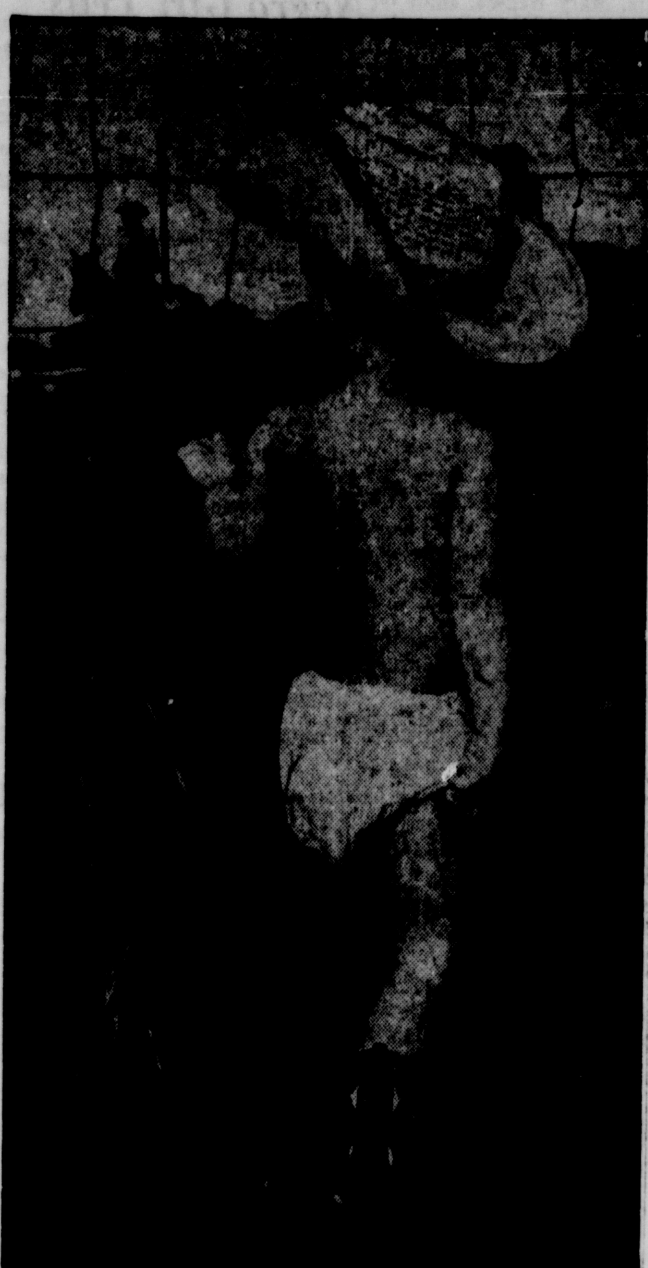

The barn is located at the Theodore Appleby farm on McIntosh Rd., off the Y. & O. Rd. The alarm was turned in at 7:55 p. m. and firemen said the blaze was not actually under control until 10:30. Firemen remained on the scene all night, leaving about 9:30 a. m. Monday.

The loss will run into several thousand dollars. Besides the large structure and a large amount of hay, the barn contained 13 riding outfits for show horses, along with many antiques. It will be some time before the actual loss is tabulated, firemen commented.

The riding tack included saddles, blinkers, bridles, etc. Fire Chief Frank Rizer of Glenmoor directed the operations.

The LaCroft department aided in fighting the blaze and the Dixonville department also sent men. Calcutta filled in at Glenmoor.

Four men from Glenmoor and three from LaCroft were overcome by smoke. The Pennova Citizens Band Radio Club furnished a portable light plant for the firemen. Civil Defense police aided with traffic. Coffee and sandwiches were served by auxiliary members of the firemen and CD.

Rockefeller Proposes Immediate Tax Slash

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York urges big and immediate tax cuts and a program to protect the nation's gold supply.

He made the proposals Monday night in a statement criticizing President Kennedy's fiscal policies.

Rockefeller accused Kennedy of using "lardy half-measures" to combat unfavorable international balance of payments that could cause "a crisis of confidence in the dollar."

He said that letting things continue as they are could bring on a worldwide depression, and added: "Timid tinkering with this problem of international payments is a luxury we cannot afford."

Midwest Hit By 'Twisters'

By The Associated Press
Storms diminished in midwest today in the wake of tornadoes and violent thunderstorms in many areas.

Twisters Monday night skipped across areas in four southwestern Wisconsin counties and in Stephenson County, in northwestern Illinois.

Several persons suffered minor injuries in the Wisconsin storms, which caused extensive property damage. Nearly a score of farms were damaged, while power and communication lines were knocked down and trees uprooted. Heaviest damage was in Green and Lafayette counties.

Heavy rain and strong winds swept many areas, up to nearly four inches in Wausau, Wis.

Earlier, severe thunderstorms rumbled across areas in Kansas and Missouri. Hail pelted the Dodge City, Kan., area. A couple of funnel clouds were reported in northeastern Kansas but no injuries were reported.

Fairly pleasant weather prevailed in most other sections of the nation. Skies were cloudy in areas in the northeast, the Rockies and along the Pacific Coast but fair weather was reported in other sections.

Cooler air spread into the northern Great Lakes region, with temperatures dropping into the 50s. Hottest sections were from southern plains westward through the southwest and into the interior valleys of California, with readings in the 80s. The 60s and 70s were reported in most other parts of the country.

623,630 Visit At State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 110th Ohio State Fair, described by officials as one of the most successful ever, has come to a colorful, noisy conclusion.

The giant industrial and agricultural exposition ended Monday night with a spectacular fireworks display.

Fair Manager E. J. Keirns announced that the 11-day fair drew 623,630 visitors, an all-time high. Last year, the 11-day exposition played to 517,702 customers.

Attendance on Labor Day was 46,938, most of whom took advantage of Gov. James A. Rhodes' two-for-one admission proclamation to salute "Labor and Industry Day" at the fair.

Only 14,968 persons attended the fair on Labor Day a year ago, Keirns said.

In the feature attraction of the day, Bob Wente of St. Louis, Mo., won the "Buckeye 100" championship auto race with a three-length victory over Mel Kenyon of Dayton, Iowa.

Wente's time of 44 minutes, 10.65 seconds earned him $1,030 in prize money while Kenyon pocketed $790.

Keirns also attributed Monday's fine attendance to a variety of plays, craft and homemaking demonstrations and other attractions.

Daughter Of Former City Residents Becomes Bride

Miss Linda Joy Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Palmer of Canonsburg, former local residents, became the bride of Donald Charles Munaf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Munaf of Largo, Fla., the evening of Aug. 20 at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Canonsburg.

The Rev. Max E. Ware, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of palms, ferns and candelabra. An arrangement of white gladioli and gold leaves was on a table above which a portion of gold-lettered Scripture was framed with smilax.

Mrs. Ware was organist. Mrs. Carolyn Dain sang "The Lord's Prayer." The bridegroom sang "Because" preceding the bride's entrance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed by her mother. The fitted bodice and tiered front and back panels of Chantilly lace were enhanced by seed pearls. A scalloped Sabrina neckline was featured in the gown of peau de soie with a cascade of cabbage roses accenting the back of the skirt which ended in a chapel train.

Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink and white roses.

Miss Norma Green was maid of honor and Miss Diana Palmer, sister of the bride, bridesmaid. They wore dresses of silk organza, the maid of honor in strawberry pink and the bridesmaid in pale pink. Cascades of cabbage roses were draped down the back.

Matching Dior bows and satin shoes and white gloves completed their costumes. They wore single-strand pearls, gifts of the bride, and carried Colonial bouquets of pink roses.

The father of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers were Michael Munaf, his brother, and Charles Weaver Jr. and Terry Byrd, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Palmer wore a rose beige dress of Italian silk with dark green accessories, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in poudre blue organza with matching accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

A reception followed in the social rooms decorated in a pink and white theme. Violin selections were presented by Rev. Ware and his wife played the organ. The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Dain sang "I Love You Truly."

Negro Girl Tells Of Marriage To White Student, 25

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlayne Hunter, first Negro girl to attend the University of Georgia, has disclosed she secretly married a white student at the university and they are expecting a child in December.

Her husband, Walter Stovall, 25, of Douglas, Ga., said his father, George, a chicken feed manufacturer, greeted news of the marriage with the comment, "This is the end of the world." The couple announced their marriage Monday after Stovall's arrival here. He worked this summer as a reporter for the Atlanta Journal.

Mrs. Stovall, 21, said they were married last spring while both were attending the university. She graduated in June.

Stovall declined to give the exact time and place of the wedding but said it was in the North and they spent their honeymoon "on the turnpike."

He said his parents maintain contact with him but refuse to talk about his wife.

The couple kept the marriage secret because Stovall had to spend the summer in Atlanta and, according to his wife, they did not want to add difficulties for him.

Miss Judith Ann Jones, James R. Martin Wed

Miss Judith Ann Jones wore a mantilla of imported lace when she became the bride of James Ronald Martin the evening of Aug. 17 at 7:30 o'clock in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Jones, 1520 Wyoming Ave., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claire E. Martin, 811 St. Clair Ave.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white carnations, palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of traditional wedding music.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess-line gown of ivory silk bombazine designed with a scoop neckline and short sleeves, outlined by narrow pearl embroidered lace. The controlled skirt, with accented hip and back fullness, swept into a chapel train.

She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white carnations and lily-of-the-valley tied with satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wilbur Forester Jr. was matron of honor and Miss Marjorie Brown, Mrs. Joyce Massey and Miss Janice Taylor bridesmaids.

They wore dresses of peau de soie fashioned with scoop necklines and short sleeves. The skirts were designed with petal effects accented at the waists with bows. The matron of honor appeared in pale pink and the bridesmaids in poudre blue.

Their headpieces were matching Dior bows with theater veils. They carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations and lily-of-the-valley, tinted to match their dresses.

Gretchen Oswalt, cousin of the bride, and Christine Massey were flower girls. They wore white nylon organza dresses with satin sashes and satin bows as headpieces. They carried nosegays of white carnations and pink and blue lily-of-the-valley.

Jerrold Martin served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Richard Feldman, Samuel Hayes and Bruce Jones, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a semi-sheer sheath of dark, muted print with violet accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore petal pink taffeta brocade with dark pink accessories. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

Mrs. O. C. Oswalt, grandmother of the bride, wore Navy blue sheer with peacock blue accessories and Mrs. J. Victor Martin, the bridegroom's grandmother, blue floral chiffon with matching accessories. Both had white carnation corsages.

A reception for 200 followed in Hilbert Hall under the supervision of the Amikittia Club. Mrs. Edward A. Green, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest register.

The buffet table, covered with a white cloth, was draped with pink maline caught with sprigs of pink gladioli. The three-tier cake, topped with wedding bells and decorated with blue lovebirds, was encircled by greenery. White milkglass appointments completed the setting.

Party dolls, dressed as replicas of the wedding party, highlighted the bride's table. Seasonal flowers from the garden of the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Victor Martin, were used on tables and throughout the hall. Mrs. Martin arranged the flowers and wedding bells.

Guests were from Cudahy and Milwaukee, Wis., Cleveland, Alliance, Euclid, Dayton, Ada, Steubenville and Pittsburgh.

For her two-week honeymoon, en route to Florida, where they will make their home, the bride wore a sheath of lilac contemporary print with matching accessories.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride completed her sophomore year at Ohio State University, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. She will continue her education in Florida.

Her husband received his bachelor of science degree in physics from Geneva College. He was formerly employed as a junior engineer with the A.C. ## ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine gave a get-acquainted luncheon last week for a newcomer in town. This newcomer apparently has fooled a great many people. She was described to me as a high-grade person with an impressive family background — wealth, social position and like that.

You can imagine my surprise when I met her and she turned out to be Mazie Kluta (manufactured name, but you get the idea) from Philly High.

Mazie did not remember me, naturally, since it was 20 years ago — and Philly High was a big school and I was a freshman when Mazie was a senior. I happen to know that her father was a butcher who did time for rubber checks and that her sister ran off with a siding salesman.

I hate phonies and nothing would give me greater pleasure than to blow the whistle on this one. My husband says to keep my mouth shut. What do you say? — IN THE KNOW.

Dear In: And who is she posing as? Queen Fredricka? Your letter indicates that the big buildup came from your friend — not Mazie — so keep quiet. If Mazie has been able to rise above her environment, I say hooray for her.

Small-Time Heiress

Dear Ann: Our daughter was 21 in June and now tells us she is no longer a minor and will do as she pleases. To make matters worse, on her 21st birthday she inherited $5,000 from her grandmother.

Unfortunately she received all the money at once and she's spending it as if there were no tomorrow. Yesterday she bought a pair of lounging pajamas for $85 and a black lace negligee with a matching gown. No decent girl would be caught dead in those getups.

Perhaps I should tell you she quit college in her freshman year because "there was nothing to learn there." She's been spending all her time with an amateur drama group, never earning a dime but living on the allowance we give her.

Yesterday she went downtown to look at a second-hand Lincoln which she will probably buy. What can we do about this girl? — DISTRAUGHT.

Dear Dis: Someone ought to point out to the "heiress" that she inherited five grand — not five million.

Let her know that the privilege of "doing as she pleases" entails full responsibility for herself. Insist that she get a paying job and kick in for room and board.

Suburban Folly

Dear Ann: When we moved out here to this so-called tony suburb I was enthusiastic about becoming friendly with the neighbors. In fact, I confess I was concerned that they might not take me in.

Well, I've been taken in all right — so thoroughly and completely that I'm trying to figure a way out. There are coffee klatches twice a day — and some of the girls get together for a cocktail at 4:30. This is in addition to a weekly bridge club, and a sewing circle and garden club and a literary club. I am clubbed to death and I can't take it.

Now, how do I unwind from the rat race? Being the newest one in the bunch makes it very difficult. I don't want to appear ungracious but I simply must get out. Please help. — CHARLOTTE'S WEBB.

Dear Charlotte: Unwind one thing at a time. Cut the coffee klatches to one instead of two. And skip the martinis. Get too busy for the bridge game, then drop the other jazz. Before you know it you'll be able to call your soul your own — just as it used to be.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruce —

Dear Heloise: Is there any way to clarify bacon grease and left-over shortening? Straining just doesn't. I still end up with particles in the grease.

FARMER'S WIFE.
Dear Friend: Put cold left-over bacon grease in a pan of cold water. Put it on a simmer on your stove, and let simmer for about ten minutes after it bubbles.

Turn out the fire and let it cool. Then put the pot and all in your refrigerator for a day. The clarified shortening will rise to the top of the pot.

Take a knife, cut the solidified fat in pieces and lift it out. The soiled water will remain in the bottom of the pot. Naturally, pour that out.

Some people do this twice. I never waste my time anymore. Once is enough for me.

You will find (and be mighty surprised) that you will have more residue in the bottom of that water than you ever realized.

HELOISE.
P.S.: CAUTION. NEVER pour hot grease into cold or hot water, or vice versa. Also, be sure your pot is big enough to hold all the shortening and water.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for little girls with long fine hair that is forever in their eyes, and barretts won't hold. . . .

Take their barretts and glue a small piece of foam rubber inside the "clip" part. This can be used on any type of barrett. The foam rubber will hold that fine hair within the barrett. ELLEN NORRIS.

DEAR HELOISE: When one goes on a picnic or camping trip, . . . little children become so absorbed with the outdoors, they wander away from parents.

I have found it a good idea to give each child a whistle before we start out on hiking trips, picnics and the like. . . . This way, if the child gets lost, all he has to do is blow his whistle and we can find him easily. MRS. MADELINE ZACHERY.

DEAR HELOISE: I always bake potatoes in my electric skillet. It only takes about an hour, and saves lighting the oven and wasting all that heat. Those who have electric skillets should try this method. DAILY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: We have a large aluminum awning and every spring the birds build a nest at each corner. Result: A not very neat porch.

I tied a medium-sized piece of plastic bag on one corner and each time the wind blew, . . . the bag rattled and scared our birds away. Result: No bird nests and a very neat porch. MRS. WILLIAM CAMPBELL.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a tip for expectant mothers: To eliminate the strings on skirts (that feel too tight across the tummy when sitting or standing) go to your dime store and buy a pair of men's suspenders. Attach to your skirts. . . .

These are much more comfortable "over the shoulders," than a tight "something," across the tummy! The suspenders also keep the hem line down on your skirts in front! EXPECTANT MOMMY.

Negro Blasts Police Action

PLAQUEMINE, La. (AP)—James Farmer of Chicago, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, says a "lynch mob made up of law enforcement officers broke up a Negro demonstration in Plaquemine.

Farmer, who has been leading a campaign against alleged discrimination in this town on the Mississippi River delta, told a news conference in New Orleans Monday: "Police did not break up the demonstration but pursued demonstrators into churches, homes and any shelter they sought."

He said Plaquemine was "a city under siege," and added, "I have never seen such police treatment in Mississippi or Alabama."

Tear gas, fire hoses and mounted policemen smashed the demonstration Sunday night, firing tear gas into a church that was headquarters for the Negroes.

Maj. Ben Ragusa, commanding state troopers who reinforced Plaquemine's police force, said no force was used except tear gas. He said Negroes were throwing bricks before troopers went into the church and that 20 of his men were hit.

In Washington, the Justice Department said it was sending additional FBI agents to Plaquemine, 20 miles south of Baton Rouge, to investigate Farmer's charges.

The union's strike committee said company proposals to end the dispute were accepted and that the company has agreed to negotiate on differences resulting from a long buildup of grievances.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Baby Reads Message In Your Eyes

One of the early happy moments you have with an infant is the first time you are sure he smiles as he looks into your eyes. Soon he associates your eyes with pleasure and a sure smile and hearing your soft, lovely voice. For months after you first enjoy your baby's smiling eyes Dr. Garry Meyers you nearly always look right into his eyes as you speak to him and you are apt then to smile, too. It's like looking into a mirror—"When you bring a smiling visage to the glass you meet a smile."

Long before your baby can talk, if he is lying near you he often may keep waiting for your eyes to meet his, when he smiles and wriggles with delight. To him your eyes are you, certainly the most precious part of you; and when your voice is soft and tender, it also is an important part of you.

SUCH HAPPY eye communications come long before speech. After your child begins to speak, he likes to look right into your eyes as he talks to you. How delightfully he then communicates with his eyes! Sometimes, when you are absorbed in some other interest while he tells you something, he may take you by the nose or hair and pull your head down so your eyes will meet his. Be glad when he does so; he is then teaching you a lesson at making your own communication, your own self, more attractive, for he's teaching you to listen with your eyes.

How wonderful if you and he often talk with your eyes and listen to each other with your eyes! At such times, each of you tends to speak in soft and tender tones; you don't shout or shriek at each other; there's a lovely feeling in your hearts.

SUCH EARLY relations of endearment surely contribute to progress in this little child's speech. As I have often said before in this column, mutual feelings of appreciation between your infant and you are perhaps the most important factor in causing him to want to talk and, therefore, to gain skill at talking.

As your child grows older, it would be wonderful if you would continue facing him and looking into his eyes when speaking to him; likewise when he is saying something to you.

In the course of our daily experience, while with the child 2, 12 or 15, even with older members of the family, we tend to grow so mechanical, so encumbered with other cares and interests that we just talk, or listen vaguely, without facing squarely and companionably the person to whom we are talking or listening.

WE MAY BE looking at some object then, at the floor, out the window, or staring into space. Wouldn't it be a great achievement if we got ourselves in hand at such times so as to speak and listen with our eyes, and communicate wholeheartedly with our loved ones?

You and I are impressed with certain persons very attractive to us whose eyes are always active as they speak and listen. Such persons seem to be among those who are appealing actors on the stage or screen.

Of course, the art of speaking and listening with the eyes, for dramatic purposes may be acquired somewhat mechanically. Yet it's doubtful if the skill is void of feeling. Anyway, the practice we have been talking about in relation to children unmistakably presupposes genuine feelings of deep regard and affection between the child and parent.

August Ends On Dry Note

Rainfall remains a need through many parts of the area, Ed Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, reported today in his monthly summary of conditions in August.

Rainfall totaled 2.04 inches at his farm, down from the normal 3.37 inches for the month.

However, Copeland said that in some parts of the county—in the Salem area for example—farmers reported they had received ample rain in the past month. Scattered showers and storms helped to mark the difference in precipitation, he explained.

The temperature last month averaged 65 degrees, 3.5 degrees cooler than the norm of 68.5 degrees for August, Copeland said.

The mercury hit a high of 85 degrees Aug. 1 and dropped to a low of 38 degrees Aug. 15. There were 14 clear days, seven partly cloudy days and 10 cloudy days, making the sunshine average 60 per cent, down from the customary 70 per cent for the month.

Mays Overcome By Exhaustion, Giants By Santo's Bat

Ford Hurls 20th Win; Mick Returns To Yanks' Lineup

Ellsworth, Reds' Maloney Post 20th Pitching Victories

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Mays is woozy, and the Giants are dead. Both collapsed during a Labor Day doubleheader at San Francisco, Mays from exhaustion and the Giants from an overdose of Ron Santo's slugging and the pitching of Dick Ellsworth and Glen Hobbie.

Ellsworth became the first Chicago Cub pitcher since 1945 to post 20 victories by winning the opener 7-5 before Hobbie put the finishing touches on the doubleheader sweep and the Giants' pennant chances with a two-hit, 6-0 second game victory.

Santo, meanwhile, went 4-for-8 with seven runs batted in for the twin bill, hitting a grand slam homer and solo shot in the nightcap as the defending champion Giants fell 9½ games behind National League-leading Los Angeles.

The Dodgers remained six games in front of second-place St. Louis, whipping Houston 7-3, as Sandy Koufax won his 21st, and 7-1. The Cardinals kept pace by downing Pittsburgh 6-1 and 6-2.

Milwaukee closed to within one-half game of the Giants despite a 9-4 loss to Philadelphia and Cincinnati gained a doubleheader split with New York, winning the nightcap 1-0 as Jim Maloney won his 20th with a three-hitter after the Mets took the opener 5-3.

Mays, the Giants' $100,000-a-year center fielder, suffered a dizzy spell and dropped to one knee after fouling off a pitch in the fourth inning of the opener. He was examined by Dr. E. C. Sailer and sent home to rest.

Dr. Sailer said Mays, hitting .301 with 32 homers and 88 runs batted in, should be back in action today. "He just told me he was tired and felt weak," said Dr. Sailer. "He had no blurry vision or anything like that. I advised him to get some rest and prescribed a sedative."

Ellsworth, a 20-game loser last year, brought his record to 20-7 in the opener with Lindy McDaniel's relief help. The Cubs snapped a tie in the fifth with three runs—two on a fly by Billy Williams that fell for a double when shortstop Jose Pagan and left fielder Cap Peterson collided. In the nightcap, Hobbie, 6-0, allowed only a third-inning single by Felipe Alou and a triple by Willie McCovey in the ninth.

Koufax, 21-5, struck out 13 for a 259 total, moving to within 10 strikeouts of his own season record for a left-hander. The Dodgers put it away with a four-run fourth in which Tommy Davis and Frank Howard contributed doubles and Willie Davis smacked a triple. Johnny Podres, 12-10, and Ron Perranoski held the Colts to five hits in the second game while John Roseboro hit a two-run homer.

Green Bay Trips New York, 24-17

By The Associated Press
The Green Bay Packers are still the Green Bay Packers, which means masters of the New York Giants and the rest of the National Football League.

Where that puts the College All-Stars is problematical, but it puts the Packers squarely atop the scramble as the 14 NFL teams move closer to their season openers 12 days from now.

The Packers, rolling to their fourth victory since that ignominious 20-17 loss to the Colts on a hot night in Chicago a month ago, smacked the Giants 24-17 before a roaring, sellout crowd of 42,327 at Green Bay Monday night.

It was the champs' seventh straight victory over the Giants, the team they whipped in the NFL title game the last two years, and their 23rd pre-season game without a loss against NFL opposition. A grind-it-out second half did the job for Green Bay this time after the Giants, capitalizing on two pass interceptions, had taken a 17-14 lead in the first two periods.

The loss was the third in four exhibitions for the Giants, Eastern Division champions four of the last five years.

McKinley Will Listen To Pro Offers Someday

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Chuck McKinley is interested in taking a fling at pro tennis, but there are a couple of jobs he wants to complete before he starts talking.

"I want to win the national championship and I want to help City Tenpin League Opens Season Tonight

The City Tenpin League will open its bowling season tonight at 9 at the Friendly Bowling Lanes.

bring the Davis Cup back from Australia," the aching-back Wimbledon king said today. "I hope I can do both this year."

"Then I may be a big enough attraction that they would make me an attractive offer. I'd be foolish to say I wouldn't listen, but I promise you, I wouldn't come cheap."

McKinley, 22, whose bid for the national men's crown hung by a slender thread Saturday when he tore a muscle in his back, is still alive at the West Side Tennis Club after a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, second-round victory over Jiri Javorsky of Czechoslovakia.

McKinley will not be on the squad which faces Venezuela in the American zone final at Denver Sept. 13-15—he has made a previous tournament commitment and he is not figured to be needed, anyhow—but he'll be the spearhead the rest of the way. The Americans next play England at Bournemouth Sept. 26-28 and then, if successful, go to India and on to Australia.

Bob Kelleher, non-playing U.S. captain, said the team for the Venezuela match would be named today. It probably will be made up of Dennis Ralston of Bakerfield, Calif.; Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill.; Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y.; and Arthur Ashe, the first Negro member from Richmond, Va.

Scott, the polished stylist out of Yale University and the University of Virginia Law School, was the most impressive of those playing second-round matches Monday. He won over his old teammate, Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Riessen had to go five sets in beating Ronnie Fisher of Houston 1-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2. Ashe started shakily but rallied for a 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Norman Perry of Los Angeles. Rafael Osuna, the fourthseeded star from Mexico, also had his anxious moments in beating Jim Beste of Baton Rouge, La., 6-2, 6-4, 13-11.

Margaret Smith of Australia, striving to add the U.S. National to her Wimbledon crown, advanced easily over Jamie Albert of Pebble Beach, Calif., 6-2, 6-1. Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., seeded No. 2 behind Miss Smith, ousted Monique Salfacti of France 6-1, 7-5.

Browns Prepare To Meet Steelers In Canton Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns has indicated that players expected to carry the Browns' hopes in the National Football League this season will be in action most of the time against the Pittsburgh Steelers in Canton Sunday.

"We are thinking in terms of our opening game now," Collier said Monday after spending most of the day huddled with his staff, looking at movies of the 23-14 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Saturday night and discussing personnel.

The Browns must drop four players to get down to the league limit of 40 tonight.

They obtained Ted Connelly, a veteran offensive guard, from the San Francisco 49ers Monday in exchange for a high 1964 draft choice. He has been in professional football eight years and is rated one of the better blockers in the NFL.

The Canton game, a feature of the National Professional Football Hall of Fame dedication ceremonies, will be the final exhibition contest for the Browns and Steelers. Cleveland opens its regular season against the Washington Redskins here Sept. 15.

Burbick Fires 64 For Club Record

Craig Burbick cracked the East Liverpool Country Club course record Labor Day when he unleashed a 32-32-64, breaking the old mark by two strokes.

Several golfers, including professional Johnny Bulla, who played here several years ago, held the previous course record of 66.

Burbick, a member of the Naval Academy golf team, fired six birdies and an eagle 3 on the Par 5 fifth hole.

The young golfer was playing in a mixed amateur-amateur event and led his team of W. A. Porter, Mrs. J. N. Nicely and Mrs. D. E. Beatty to victory.

Player Tops Arnie, Jack In Holiday

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — The sign read: "Gary's Gallery." Carrying it were six teen-age boys garbed in black—just like Gary Player.

There was no "Arnie's Army" or any similar rooting faction for Jack Nicklaus.

The $50,000 Holiday Golf Classic was made up strictly of cheers for Player during the 36-hole exhibition at the par 35-35-70 Glen Flora Country Club.

The compact South Africa star, striving to get back into the "Big Three" group with Palmer and Nicklaus after failing to win any big ones this season, didn't let the fans down.

He won by two strokes in the two-day extravaganza which drew a total of about 6,000 golfing bugs.

The victory brought Player renewed prestige of a sort, and $20,000. He won with a 67-69-136. Nicklaus, the PGA and Masters champion, received $16,000 for shooting 68-70-138. Palmer, the leading money-winner, settled for last with 67-74-141 and $14,000.

Racing Head Dies In W.Va.

ELKINS, W. Va. (AP) — James A. (Mike) Wilverding, 65, vice chairman of the state Racing Commission, died last night of an apparent heart ailment at his summer cottage near here.

An autopsy was ordered today. Wilverding, the second member of the commission to die within a month, had gone to bed after entertaining guests.

He was general manager of the Elkins Inter-Mountain and had been associated with the newspaper 38 years.

A native of Elkins, he had attended Davis & Elkins College and was graduated from the University of Kentucky. Although he received a degree in pharmacy, he never practiced.

Gov. W. W. Baron appointed Wilverding to the Racing Commission in 1961.

Eugene M. Frederick, chairman of the Racing Commission, died Aug. 10 along with state Fire Marshal Basil E. Wright in the crash of their private plane near Martinsburg.

Yanks Split With Tigers; Twins Take Pair In Battle For 2nd

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was only Labor Day, but it had all the looks of a World Series tune-up for the New York Yankees.

Whitey Ford went seven innings plus in posting his 20th victory and Mickey Mantle was back in the starting line-up.

It happened in Detroit Monday as the Yankees held onto their American League cushion of an even dozen games with a double-header split against the Tigers.

Ford became a 20-game winner for the second time in his 12-season career in the opener, taken by the Yanks 5-4. Mantle was a starter for the first time since June 5 in the second game, a 2-1 squeaker won by the Tigers behind left-hander Hank Aguirre's neat pitching.

J. C. Martin's two-run double in the last of the ninth inning gave Chicago's second-place White Sox an 8-7 decision over Los Angeles and a doubleheader split against the Angels. Los Angeles ripped out 15 hits in capturing the opener 7-5.

Minnesota put on another power show and climbed to within one-half game of the White Sox by knocking off Kansas City twice, 6-2 and 3-1. Boston dropped Baltimore in a pair, 4-3 as Bill Monbouquette won his 19th and 3-0 on the five-hit pitching of rookie Bob Heffner; Cleveland and Washington blasted 12 homers in a split, the Indians romping in the opener 15-3 and the Senators squeezing by in the second game 8-7.

Sandy Koufax recorded No. 21 Mantle, out of action completely for two months with a broken foot and resultant knee trouble, had been confined to pinch hitting before his start in center field in Monday's second game. Mantle's loss hadn't been felt by the Yanks—except perhaps at the gate—but they'd feel a lot safer with the switch-hitting slugger in prime shape for the World Series.

Mantle rapped two singles against Aguirre, who stifled several threats in turning in an eight-hitter. The Tigers overcame a 1-0 deficit with their two runs in the third inning against Stan Williams on Bill Bruton's double, Dick McAuliffe's bunt single, a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline and Rocky Colapinto's single.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer against Frank Lary in the fifth inning of the opener broke a 2-2 tie and powered Ford to his 20th victory.

Chester VFW Advance To Tournament Finals

Chester VFW moved into the finals of the Chester Softball tournament by nipping Gallagher's Market, 5-4.

Vern Jones led the attack with three hits and Jack Thayer came fore scoring two runs in that inning and two more in the seventh. Jones singled home the tying and winning runs.

In another game Amvets defeated Ludovici's, 3-2, when Staley tripped and scored on Murawski's single in the last of the seventh to break a 2-2 tie.

Williams was the winning pitcher and Black took the loss.

Swigger came up with three hits while Murawski and Sayre had two each for Amvets. Williams led the losers with two safeties.

Gold Bar of Salem turned around to blank the Amvets, 5-0, behind Milisk's one hit which included 12 strikeouts.

Jim Eckstein led the winners with two hits and Larry Talbott came up with the only hit for the Amvets.

Hancock Savings won on a forfeit over Old Dutch.

2 Horses Die In Blaze At Randall Park

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two horses were destroyed in a fire that demolished a barn at Randall track southeast of Cleveland early today.

Firemen from four communities fought the blaze, preventing flames from moving to a neighboring barn in which 65 horses were quartered.

J. Gilbert Haus, general manager of the track in North Randall, estimated loss of the barn at $25,000. Only six horses were in the barn at the time.

Destroyed in the blaze were Four Circles, owned and trained by Roger Heitzmann Jr. of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and Cable Lead, owned by John Cucinatto and Carl Gambino of Cleveland. Four Circles was last entered in a $2,500 claiming race and Cable Lead had not run for some time, a track spokesman said.

Also burned were Glance Again, which had won races at Randall and Thistlewood, and Billie Mango, both owned and trained by Anestis W. Simeonidou of Detroit.

Indianapolis, Atlanta Meet To Decide Title

By The Associated Press
Indianapolis and Atlanta met tonight in a one-game, sudden-death playoff at Indianapolis to decide the International League's Southern Division championship.

The Crackers and Indians tied for the lead Monday night when Atlanta beat Columbus 2-0 and Indianapolis split with Arkansas, losing the first game 13-2 and winning the second 4-1.

Toronto clinched second place in the Northern division, beating Richmond 3-1. Rochester beat Syracuse, the Northern Division winner, 7-2 and Buffalo edged Jacksonville 8-7 in the league's final regular season games.

A toss of the coin decided Indianapolis as the site for the Cracker-Indian playoff.

Dick Hughes, with help from Riverboat Smith and Bob Humphreys, set down the Jets for Atlanta. The Crackers got only four hits off three Columbus hurlers.

The League's playoffs begin Wednesday night with the North-

Magic Digit For LA Is 20

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—This is the time of year when baseball—already up to its eyeballs in statistics—compounds its mathematical muddle by conferring "magic numbers" on first-place teams.

For the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lead the National League by a half-dozen games, the magic number is 20.

This means any combination of Dodger victories and St. Louis losses totaling 20 would eliminate the second-place Cardinals.

But the Dodgers did not have to wait until September to come by a magic number. They've had one all season. And, unlike the number contrived by the statisticians, this one never changes.

It's always 32.

Sandy Koufax wears it on his back.

Last year in mid-July Koufax developed a circulatory disorder in the tip of the first finger of his pitching hand. He made only a few brief appearances the rest of the season.

The Dodgers lost the pennant to San Francisco in the final inning of the final game of a three-game playoff. In a game of inches, the Dodgers appeared to have lost by an inch—measuring back from the tip of Koufax's left forefinger.

The Dodgers were only the fourth best hitting team in the league last year, and they haven't done even that well this season.

Yet they are 2½ games farther in front than they were a year ago today. Having Koufax around all summer may not entirely explain the difference, but it will do for an opener.

Right now the 27-year-old left-hander leads the major leagues in victories (21), complete games (18), shutouts (10) and strikeouts (250).

He has a better earned-run average (1.97) than any other starter in the National League.

Koufax struck out 13 Monday as the Dodgers defeated Houston 7-3 in the opener of a doubleheader.

3 Golfers Tie In Club Event

A three-way tie for first occurred in the selective nine-hole event played Sunday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Firing 30's were J. S. Probst, Art Lynch and J. T. Hall. Don Burdick, Dr. J. J. Laneve, T. H. Kashuba and Bob Patterson were deadlocked for second with 31.

Russ Smith won the second division with 28.

Bill Hocking Jr. won Saturday's par-birdie-eagle contest with 27 points while W. T. Pomeroy, Bob Patterson and Dr. J. J. Laneve finished with 24.

Russ Smith again won the second division with 24 and Bill Mayers had 18 points.

MILAN (AP) — Ralph Dupas, world junior middleweight boxing champion, ended his training Monday night for Friday's title defense against Italian Sandro Mazzinghi.

The New Orleans boxer put in a full morning of road work, then spent the afternoon and early evening in the ring at Vigorelli Velodrome, where the bout will be staged.

Lisbon Ladies Defeat Team Of Hanoverton

LISBON — The Lisbon Ladies softball team defeated the Hanoverton Ladies Sunday, 2-1. Joyce Sweeney and Virginia Veits were pitchers. Hanoverton claimed the Lisbon club had too many student girls playing and the Lisbon club offered a return match with no one playing under 21 years of age. Hanoverton has yet to accept.

Sunday at 1:30 p. m., the Lisbon club will play the Kensington Ladies at the field near the county garage off S. Market St. A return match at Kensington will be held Monday at 6 p. m.

Connor's Loft Wins Top Spots In Race

Pat Connor's loft flew home to take first and second places in the third race of the young bird season Sunday sponsored by the East Liverpool Racing Pigeon Club.

Vic Giovenco's entry was third. The winning time by Connor's bird from Newark was 2 hours, 24 minutes and 31 seconds.

Another race will be flown from Newark Sunday.

Johnson Wins Race

Tiger Stadium in Detroit now seats 53,089 following box seat alterations.

Record Crowd Of 71,675 Watch Kelso Win In Romp

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Move over Exterminator, and Round Table, too. Kelso is winning horse races so easily he could be around long enough to become the leading money-winning horse in the world.

The 6-year-old gelding won the 13th $100,000 race of his brilliant career Monday, a 5½-length victory over Crimston Satan in the $110,000 Aqueduct Stakes at 1½ miles.

If there were any disbelievers in the crowd of 71,675—biggest turnout in New York racing history—Kelso should have converted them. Make no mistake, this horse is one of the tops of all time, and he's nearing his fourth straight Horse-of-the-Year title.

Exterminator, the famous "Old Bones" who started 100 races and won 50 during an eight-year career that ended when he was nine.

is the most famous of American geldings. He campaigned between 1917-24. In a day when purses were small, he earned a total of $232,996.

Kelso, who keeps the cash register ringing in the home of Mrs. Richard C. duPont of Wilmington, Del., earned $71,800 Monday, boosting his 1963 total to $403,257. The strapping dark brown son of Your Host-Maid Of Flight, by Count Fleet, jacked his bankroll to $1,415,197, and is only $334,672 back of Round Table who earned $1,749,869.

Round Table raced four years and retired in 1959 after winning 43 of 66 starts. The Aqueduct was Kelso's 42nd race, his 29th victory, and one of the most impressive of his career. Behind him at the finish in a field of eight were some pretty tough customers, battling it out for runner-up spoils.

Crimston King Farm's Crimston Satan had won five major stakes from coast to coast this season. Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, one of the top 3-year-olds who was nosed out for third money by Harbor View Farm's Garwol, had captured six $100,000 races this year.

Greentree Stable's The Axe II, an English-bred Grass star, may be the one to give Kelso some competition in the Man O'War and International, and perhaps in the Woodward.

The Axe, carrying top weight of 127 pounds at Chicago, scored a head victory over Elmendorf Farm's B. Major in the $111,450 Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park. It was the sixth victory in nine starts this year for The Axe.

The Lindheimer was 1½ miles, same as the Laurel International, also a grass classic.

CRAZY ABOUT HORSES. An aerial view of Aqueduct Race Track in New York shows some of the crowd and cars that contributed toward the record gathering of 71,675 fans that came out to watch the horses run Labor Day. Biggest draw was Kelso, who bested seven rivals to win the $110,000 Aqueduct Stakes. (UPI Telephoto)

Boycott Set Over Negro Family Move

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP)—A group of Folcroft residents says there will be no violence against a Negro family that moved into a white neighborhood but it will use "passive resistance by demonstrations and boycotts of any business which serves or deals" with the family.

The statement was issued Monday after about 1,000 men met for nearly two hours at the Folcroft Swim Club.

The statement deplored the mob violence that greeted Horace and Sarah Baker, who moved into the Delmar development under state police guard Friday night. A mob had blocked the move Thursday.

The statement, which was not signed, emphasized that the Baker family is not welcome in this suburb of Philadelphia but said "the state troopers may leave and the violence will not return."

State police kept the area under tight security and Folcroft borough Mayor Hugh McVicker ordered that no passes be issued to nonresidents Monday.

The Bakers, with the help of friends, spent Labor Day repairing their row house. Windows were broken and the lawn was littered with rocks, eggs and vegetables by the mob.

U.S. Diplomat Slates

Talk With Ayub Khan
RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—With a message of friendship for Pakistan, Undersecretary of State George Ball arrived today for talks dealing with strained U.S.-Pakistani relations.

As Ball scheduled a meeting with President Mohammed Ayub Khan, Pakistani officials met with a Chinese Communist delegation to complete a barter trade agreement.

One reason President Kennedy sent Ball to Pakistan was Pakistan's swing toward closer relations with Red China. Ayub Khan was angered by the big arms aid the United States granted India—his old enemy—after Red China attacked on the Indian frontier last fall.

British Ban Scientist From Research Work

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Giuseppe Martelli, acquitted on charges of preparing to spy for the Soviet Union, will be barred from continuing his nuclear research job in Britain.

The 40-year-old Italian-born scientist was acquitted July 15. A spokesman for the British Atomic Energy Authority said Monday night Martelli's British contract, due to expire Sept. 30, will not be renewed.

dicted that 24 persons would die in traffic during the holiday period which began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

In addition, two persons drowned in a boating accident on the Ohio River Sunday and five others were killed in miscellaneous accidents to push the total number of accidental deaths during the holiday weekend to 23.

Officials had feared that cars returning from Labor Day outings Monday night would jam the highways and send the death toll soaring. But a comparatively low total of three traffic deaths were reported on Labor Day itself.

Last year, 25 persons died in Ohio in traffic accidents during the equally long holiday period.

Among Sunday and Monday accident victims were:

Edward Carpenter, 45, Columbus, passenger in a taxi which collided with a car at an intersection on Columbus' near East Side.

Betty Sue Cornelius, 28, Columbus, of injuries received Saturday when her car struck a utility pole on Columbus' near East Side.

Roy Sumpter, 18, Akron, passenger in a car which went out of control in Coventry Township south of Akron.

Bertha Rafter, 67, and his sister, Cora Bruner, 73, both of Columbus, in a two-car collision five miles west of Delaware at the U.S. 36-Ohio 257 intersection.

Leslie Wilson, 56, Cincinnati, and Regina Kendall, 16, Harrison, drowned in a boat accident on the Ohio River near North Bend.

Mrs. Diana Furbie, 40, Cleveland, when her car went out of control and struck a parked car in Cleveland.

Eli F. DeBartolo, 9, Brimfield (Portage County), when he ran into the side of an automobile on Ohio 18 near Brimfield.

Top Writer Quits East Germany In Visit At Hamburg

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Prof. Hans Mayer, East German national prize winner and one of the most prominent Soviet bloc "liberal" intellectuals, has defected to West Germany.

Here on a lecture tour, Mayer announced Monday night he will not return to Leipzig University where he has taught literature for 15 years and gained an international reputation.

In 1935, he won the East German government's national prize for his works on classical and modern literature. Since the East German Communist regime tightened its reins, he had fallen into official disgrace but his defection is expected to have a bombshell effect among intellectuals in the Soviet bloc.

Mayer, 56, is a close friend of many leading Eastern writers.

Pupils Mark Integration In Carolina

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Eleven Negro children sat down with white children in four Charleston public schools today, marking South Carolina's first school integration below the college level.

There were no incidents as the Negro students arrived for their first day of classes.

Only an occasional remark was heard as the 11 neatly dressed Negro children, some accompanied by their parents, strolled into the four previously all-white schools in this historic port city where the first shots of the Civil War were fired a century ago.

Fifteen Negroes also attended classes today for the first time in previously segregated Roman Catholic schools in Charleston.

Today's classes were expected to pass as peacefully as the abbreviated classes last Friday when five of the Negroes were registered at public schools.

A voluntary desegregation program was announced by Bishop Francis F. Reh of the Diocese of Charleston after U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Martin Jr. ordered the 11 Negroes admitted to public schools.

Alabama

school board to postpone the start of fall classes in the one school Monday because of what he called the threat of violence.

The previous white Tuskegee school was the only one in Macon County ordered desegregated at this time and the only one affected by Wallace's order.

The mounted sheriff's deputies came here from Dallas County under the command of sheriff Jim Clark. The trained horsemen have been used previously to keep order during racial demonstrations in other cities.

There was no indication of federal intervention.

A Justice Department spokesman said Monday that "the dispute is between Gov. Wallace and the local school officials."

Wallace intervened Monday two hours before 13 Negroes were to enter the white public school. It would have been the first desegregation in Alabama schools below college level and it would have left Mississippi as the only state with a completely segregated public school system.

The Alabama chief executive, an ardent segregationist, invoked his police powers in an executive order in which he said there was reasonable cause to fear "breaches of the peace by force and violence...which cannot be speedily suppressed or effectively prevented by law enforcement agencies."

The governor sent 108 armed and riot-trained patrolmen to circle the school and enforce a strongly worded executive order which postponed the opening of school for one week.

However, the Macon County School Board, under federal court order to integrate its schools this year, defied Wallace's order and said in a statement, "The members of the board determined their primary duty is to operate the schools of Macon County. Therefore, all schools of Macon County are open as originally scheduled by the board."

The possibility of federal intervention was strengthened by the presence of John Doar, deputy director of the Justice Department's civil rights division. Doar conferred for several hours with members of the board but declined to say what the Justice Department planned.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy cut short a holiday to return to work when he received word of Wallace's executive order.

Wallace himself did not appear in Tuskegee, but sent six of his top aides to act in his behalf. The governor was in north Alabama on a Labor Day speaking tour.

The 108 state troopers ringed the tree-studded campus all Monday morning, diverting traffic and allowing only members of the school staff to get to the building. They dispersed shortly after 3 p. m. but returned to spend the night at the school.

Early today the force had swelled to 215 uniformed patrolmen plus local police help from several surrounding towns.

The Last Interview, The Final Question

The celebrity, let us suppose, is that eminent comic actor of international stage, films and TV, Emory Scottbluff—a fellow of great girth, hopelessly tangled finances and a half dozen broken marriages.

The interviewer is a thin, porridge-faced reporter, Les Lipp of the Daily Snarl. Lipp lives with his mother, wife and three tots in a half-room apartment overlooking Centerville's new garbage incinerator.

Alan Gill

AS LIPP sits waiting for Scottbluff in the latter's temporary living quarters, the Emperor Hadrian Suite of the Centerville Hilton, he glances over some preliminary notes he's scribbled in his pad.

"Why such failure as husband?" was the first entry.

Then: "More troubles with tax people? Why he so fat? Why he fighting with producer? Dissatisfied with scripts? What is difference between English wife and American wife? Why he think his network abdicating authority to Mad. Ave.? What do when current series fails?"

But Lipp suddenly becomes aware that someone—a large man—has been standing behind him, studying his notes. It is Scottbluff, resplendent in his rose-tinted smoking jacket and canary fez.

Jumping to his feet, Lipp becomes enmeshed in an overhead mobile as he stammers his name and coughs out a "pleased to meet you." Scottbluff cuts the reporter loose, waves him to a chair, and invites a question.

"HOW," Lipp asks, flashing his most ingratiating smile, "old are you?"

Scottbluff rises to his feet, jams his fists into his jacket pockets and, pacing the room like a man of considerable responsibility, utters the following: "Nineteen and a half, going on 20. And, Lipp, you fascinate me. Why do you smoke so much? Don't you know it will kill you? If it's the death wish you have, what's the cause of it? A nagging wife? An overprotective mother? A drunken father? Do YOU drink, Lipp?"

"How much money do you make? Have you ever taken home any typewriter paper from the office? Tell me a funny anecdote, Lipp. That's right, now tell me another. Ho, ho, that's good."

"IS IT TRUE that your editor doesn't appreciate you? Does he change a word here and there and ruin the whole thing? Why do you suppose he does that? Why do you carry advertising in your paper? Why don't you cut it all out and just raise the price of each copy a few cents? No more commercials, eh, Lipp? A bloody nuisance, aren't they?"

"How secure are you? Are you glad you went into your field of endeavor? When they finally fire you, what will you do then? What does your wife think of your work? What do you think of her? What do you think of humor? Funny, isn't it? But what is it REALLY?"

"Why do you suppose the English are the way they are? What do you think they think of us? Are their newspapers better than ours? Why do newspapers criticize television? Why doesn't television criticize newspapers?"

"DO YOU THINK newspapers should be permitted an editorial page, Lipp? Who's your favorite columnist? Your least favorite? Comic strips are making idiots and criminals of our children, don't you agree? And who writes those little weather reports for your paper? Don't you think they could be spruced up just a bit?"

"If you had it to do all over again, what would you do? Where would you go? Whom would you marry? Do you suppose you're going to heaven, Mr. Lipp, or to hell?"

"Do you write clumsily? Name five TV columnists who are better than you. Now name 10. If you had three wishes, what would they be? If you were arrested tomorrow morning by a tax agent, what would be the charge?"

"How long does your doctor give you, Lipp? Where the devil are you going? Lipp! Lipp!"

Lipp is heading for the Driftwood Room off the lobby, that's where. He's going to have a drink.

What Causes Heart Trouble?

The first Monday of September marks a turning point. Back to work we go. We tend to settle into a regular routine.

If outdoor living has conditioned you for more activity, why give it all up and settle for a way of living that will gradually fileh away your plus feeling of Ida Jean Kain well-being?

By the way, if you were asked to guess, what would you say is the toughest, sturdiest, most durably built muscle in the body? Ten to one you would not mention the heart. Nevertheless, the heart it is, an organ far more rugged, doctors tell us, than the most enduring man-made machine ever devised.

Consider that the heart weighs less than three-quarters of a pound. Yet it may pump eight or nine tons of blood through the system daily, resting only a breath between each beat. When damaged, even seriously sometimes, the heart amazingly can repair itself. To do this sort of lifetime job, it has to be, in the biblical words, "fearfully and wonderfully made."

WHY THEN, you may reasonably ask, is fatal heart attack one of the leading killers in America today? Oddly enough, many specialists now list as a contributing cause our lack of regular, daily exercise, rather than the stress of modern life.

To quote the famous Dr. Paul Dudley White, "Nervous strain never kills a healthy man," one whose heart and arteries are sound. The best antidote for nervous tension and hard intellectual work, the doctor claims, is physical fatigue, brought on by regular sensible exercise to which the heart is accustomed.

Americans tend to ride, seldom walk, use elevators and not stairs, and dream up gadgets to avoid as much physical effort as possible. Yet our death rate through heart ailments far exceeds that of countries favoring the bicycle for transportation.

OBVIOUSLY sensible exercise can strengthen the heart just as regular use maintains the tone of any other muscle. But to avoid overexertion, such exercise must be a continual part of one's daily life. What often causes trouble in middle-aged men who live sedentary lives are the spurts of activity — overexertion on the weekend, the sudden dash for a commuter train, the hour of steady shoveling after a snowfall — when the heart is not conditioned even to mild walks.

Significantly, the countries which are characterized by a low fat diet and a consequent low serum cholesterol level are also characterized by a high level of physical activity. On the basis of present studies, the role of physical activity in maintaining a healthy heart may be as significant, if not more so, than dietary factors.

Decreases Seen In Number Of Milk Cows In Fall, Winter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today a continued substantial decline in the number of milk cows during the fall and winter months.

The largest percentage decline since June 1959 occurred during the first half of this year when milk cow numbers dropped from 17.1 million to 16.6 million. This represented a decline of 2.8 percent.

The department said slowly rising costs are primarily responsible while prices received by farmers remain about steady except for a decline in the Northeast.

Another factor, the department said, is the strong market for cull cows.

The decline in milk cow herds is being reflected in milk production. The forecast is for less than 12.5 million pounds in 1963 compared with 125.9 in 1962.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "fantastic expansion" in the use of credit by farmers was reported today by F. Vernon Wright, who as deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration supervises 485 farmer-owned production credit associations.

Wright said that in the fiscal year ended June 30 farmers borrowed $3.4 billion from their credit associations, compared with $1.9 billion for the same period in 1958.

Wright gave the farm borrowers a good credit rating. The last examination of the associations, he said, showed that 94 per cent of all loans were classified as good to excellent, 5.5 per cent as needing close supervision, and less than one-half of 1 per cent as poor.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Africa is becoming an increasingly important market for U.S. farm products. Exports to Africa totaled $380 million in the last fiscal year.

(Continued from Page One) picnics, 245 fishing, 1,000 boating, 1,662 campers and 1,750 visitors. He said the camping area was filled into the overflow section for one of the largest crowds on record. Swimming and boating closed for the season.

Robert Hand, park supervisor, estimated crowds at Rock Springs Park over the weekend were around 10,000 for the season's closing.

Attendance at Veterans Pool in Midland was estimated at about 175 for Labor Day after which the pool closed.

The facilities at Thompson Park were not used very extensively over the weekend, apparently because of the cool weather.

William Bell, superintendent, said the entire month of August has been poor. Only a small crowd used the swimming pool yesterday. It closed Monday for the season.

Over 500 cups of coffee, some 350 cups of orange drink and about 500 litter bags were distributed by the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce in a Labor Day coffee stop held on outer Dresden Ave.

At least 10 dozen doughnuts were consumed by the motorists who were invited to stop for a brief time to avoid highway fatigue and possible traffic accidents.

Paul Grafton and Ray Betteridge were chairmen. Grafton and John Parsons dressed as clowns to invite motorists into the stop.

Two other Jaycees were on duty at the end of the Freeway, reminding motorists that the coffee stop was ahead.

The Jaycees also cleaned the windshield of each vehicle that stopped. Four antique cars were on display for examination by those who were drinking their coffee.

Most of the motorists expressed pleasure at the effort and many were from several states.

The holiday also marked the end of the summer vacation for a number of school children. Hancock County schools resumed today, as did parochial classes in Midland and East Liverpool.

All other schools, including those in East Liverpool and Wellsville, will open their doors Wednesday for the new term.

east on Route 14 90 feet west of the junction with Route 7 and preparing to turn into a private driveway when his auto was involved in a collision with a car driven by Johnnie Lem Warner, 22, of Jasper, Tex. The crash was timed at 11:45 p. m.

James Evans, 17, of Elkton was in "fair" condition today at the Hospital with a head injury and a scalp laceration suffered in a one-car crash on Shadyside Ave. a mile northwest of the city limits Monday night at 11:30.

Evans' passenger, James Paul McLaughlin, 16, of Lisbon R. D. 5, suffered a bruised right ankle.

The patrol said Evans was driving north when he failed to negotiate a curve. His auto went off the right side of the road and overturned, the patrol said. The investigation is continuing, the patrol said.

A Chicago man and a passenger in his auto were injured slightly in another one-car crash Monday at 11:40 p. m. on Route 30 about two and a half miles east of Hanoverton, the patrol said.

An eastbound car driven by Charles Miller, 20, of Chicago left the highway on a curve, hit an embankment and then overturned onto the road, the patrol said.

Miller and his passenger, James Logan, 17, of Rockford, Ill., both suffered bruises of the left shoulder and back. They were treated at Salem City Hospital.

Miller was cited for driving at a speed too great for road conditions.

tration when triggered. It is applied to the left forearm into a spot of tuberculin material applied with a toothpick. A separate sterile cartridge is used for each test and no dressing is required.

The health league is scheduled to return Friday to read the results. The test can be read anytime from three to 10 days.

Those who react to the skin test will be advised to have further checks, including a chest X-ray. However, a red or positive reaction does not necessarily mean active tuberculosis since those who have inactive or healed tuberculosis will show a positive reaction, Miss Schroeder explained.

Testing of school children and all other school board employees will begin later.

Before taking the test, children will be required to have request cards signed by a parent, Blair said. The cards now are being prepared and will be sent to the homes, he said.

Student testing will start in the high school where two active cases of tuberculosis have been discovered in the last two years.

Franklin's Road Work Discussed

SUMMITVILLE — A report on road work was heard at a meeting of the Franklin Township trustees Monday night.

Paul Dowdell, president, said the Columbiana County road crew has completed sealing the Bethesda Church Rd. from State Route 644 to Township Rd. 844, the Dungan Rd. from Route 518 two miles to the Hanoverton Township line, Township Rd. 762 and all streets in MSport.

Constable Forrest Young's report for August showed 396 miles patrolled, one accident investigated, one breaking and entering checked, six warnings issued and 14 miscellaneous calls.

the car ahead leap out and flee on foot. The driverless car then crossed the street and hit the building, he reported.

An adult and a juvenile are in custody and a third suspect is sought.

Another stolen car was abandoned in similar fashion a few moments earlier on Maryland Ave. at Pennsylvania Ave., crashing into a fire hydrant when the driver fled, police said. It is registered in the name of Harold Smith, 829 Lincoln Ave.

The two cars were abandoned in rapid succession as Officer Burson trailed them, police explained.

Lt. W. E. McDaniel said Patrolman Burson began to trail the two cars when he noted them driving virtually bumper-to-bumper. First the Smith car was abandoned and then moments later the two jumped out of Burdick's car, also fleeing.

About 45 minutes later, Officer Burson and Patrolman David K. Mumaw spotted the three suspects on foot on Harvey Ave. They gave chase and nabbed the adult and the juvenile, but the third suspect escaped, police said.

Nearby police departments set up roadblocks to aid in the search. Lt. McDaniel walked the railroad tracks from Midland to the state line, thinking the suspect might have taken to the riverfront. The tracks also were searched in the area of Marshall's Bottom.

Police are scheduled to file charges Wednesday in Municipal Court.

within a week after the court ruling. As the appointment was not "forthwith," as directed by the court, counsel filed a contempt charge against the mayor and director.

Later, on Aug. 26, Charles Amato, who was top man on the eligibility list for the patrolman's job, filed a suit asking Hamilton's appointment be set aside and he named to the post.

Hearings on the contempt charge and Amato's petition will be held next Monday at Lisbon.

The dispute over the appointment arose when the mayor proposed appointment of parking meter attendants, taking the meter policing away from the department. He claimed that without this duty, the additional patrolman would not be needed.

City Council later turned down legislation to create the post of meter attendants and never acted on any legislation to officially cut the police force by one man.

halt military assistance to Viet Nam.

U.S. aid to the small Southeast Asian country is running at the rate of $500 million a year. The total during the past decade is near $3 billion.

While Kennedy ruled out an end to military assistance, officials said there are various actions short of a U.S. decision to abandon South Viet Nam which could be taken and which if the situation gets worse will have to be considered.

For the moment the administration policy makers anxiously awaited Saigon's reaction to Kennedy's blast. The President's words were aimed primarily at South Vietnamese leaders, including not only President Diem but also his brother Nhu and the generals who compose the military high command.

Billion-Dollar Extravaganza

New York World's Fair
Fast Rounding Into Form

NEW YORK (AP)—On 646 acres of reclaimed marshland within sight of Manhattan's skyscrapers, the billion-dollar 1964-65 New York World's Fair is fast taking form.

The giant exposition shapes up in some ways as a big city cousin to the familiar county fair—minus pigs, sheep and the like.

Its scale is colossal, its extravaganza unrivaled and some of its features unprecedented.

One exhibit alone, housing General Motors Corp.'s Futurama, will rise 10 stories, occupy 230,000 square feet of ground space and reportedly cost close to $50 million.

There will be 200 other exhibits. One official estimates it would take 100 hours to walk through them all.

Progress of fair financing and construction was surveyed in a recent issue of Investor's Reader, published by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.

Many lavish and ingenious displays, being prepared chiefly by industrial firms, will dramatize wonders of science and what they portend.

Others will accent cultural, commercial, entertainment, religious, historical, musical and sports appeal.

In the Vatican pavilion, visitors will be able to view Michelangelo's famed sculpture "Pieta." Life-size figures of dinosaurs and contemporary beasts will feature another exhibit.

Attendance in the first two six-month seasons, starting April 22, is expected to reach 40 million, or four times the draw of the 1962

Seattle World's Fair, officials say. An international theme, "Peace Through Understanding," has been chosen. Its symbol is the Unisphere, a 120-foot-diameter globe of stainless steel bearing a relief map of the world.

The Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, China and several other leading nations are taking no part. For various reasons, still others will be represented only by commercial exhibitors.

While the Italian government, for example, is sitting out the fair, an Italian industrial consortium will provide a $3-million pavilion, one of 48 foreign structures planned.

Architects are having a field day, and novel building contours will offer many striking and futuristic visual effects.

The roof of one large structure, open to the public, is fashioned to resemble the moon's surface. Other buildings will have the shapes of flying saucers, spheres and irregular prisms.

Dominating the north end of the grounds, just outside their limits, is Shea Stadium, a new home being built for the Mets, New York's National League baseball entry, and the Jets, of the American Football League.

Robert Moses, 74, the fair president, ruled out belly-dancers and other honky-tonk attractions for establishments in the lake amusement area, on the south of the grounds fronting Meadow Lake.

The area, reached by a tunnel under an expressway, will have restaurants, night clubs, a water-side stage and bandshell for musicals and other nonmidway features.

Similarly split off to the west will be the fair's transportation section, including the GM, Ford and Chrysler structures.

Industrial pavilions are going up in the east wing. Foreign, U.S. government, state and religious exhibit halls will occupy the center area.

Little parks, landscaped walks, fountains, plazas and artificial pools will lend beautifying touches.

Tom Deegan, executive committee chairman of the fair, said it will be "the biggest box office in history."

Bankers' estimates, he said, call for 70 million visitors over the two years. Others range to 82 million. About 42 million persons saw the Brussels Exposition of 1958.

A $2 admission fee has been set for adults and $1 for children 2 to 12. However, wholesale advance buyers of tickets at a discount—American Airlines is one—will offer them at cut rates.

A total of $120 million in public funds is being spent to expand the arterial highway network near the site by 16 lanes.

Other millions are going into facilities for arrivals by subway, bus, railroad, helicopter and boat. A 1,000-berth Fiberglass marina in nearby Flushing Bay will handle boat traffic.

Ohioan Hurt
As Jet Burns
Near Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—A jet plane crashed and caught fire today soon after taking off from the U.S. Navy base at Atsugi, near Tokyo, police reported.

Police said the pilot parachuted from the F80 Crusader, but two Americans and five Japanese were injured slightly when two fire trucks collided enroute to the scene.

The U.S. Navy identified the pilot as Marine Capt. Michael J. Hanly of Warren, Ohio.

His wife, Mrs. Darolyn K. Hanly, lives at 155 Genesee St. NE, Warren. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hanly, live at 191 Hiawatha, Westerville, Ohio.

The two Americans suffering minor injuries in the collision, were Airman Glenn W. Hass of Rt. 1, Newton, N.C., and Airman Apprentice Howard L. Flaeschaker of Savannah, Ga.

The Navy said Capt. Hanly was seriously injured but "his prognosis is good." He is being treated at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Yokosuka.

Youth Riots Held
To Mark End Of Summer Holiday

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP)—Thousands of young persons at this Atlantic Ocean vacation town and three other resort areas across the nation apparently have established a new sport to be played at summer's last gasp.

It's called Labor Day weekend rioting and more than 400 arrests at Hampton Beach, Seaside, Ore., Ocean City, Md., and Lake George, N.Y., attest to its popularity.

The rules are simple: dress casually, show contempt for authority, snake dance in the streets, throw rocks, bottles and firecrackers and drink too much.

In Los Angeles, Evangelist Billy Graham said "these outbursts of teen-age revolt are the result of youth's futile search for purpose and meaning" to life.

"They are trying to find it in sex," he told a revival meeting, "but when they become satiated with love making, they turn to violence."

Pope's Letter Viewed
As Indication Of Goals

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Word in Vatican circles that Pope Paul VI is working on his first encyclical brought speculation today that it may set the mood of his entire reign. This was the case in the first letter of Pope John XXIII in 1958.

The encyclical is said to be on the relationship between the Christian truths and the scientific-intellectual concepts of modern culture. The encyclical—a letter to all Roman Catholic bishops—is not expected to be released before November or December.

Some here see special importance attached by the Vatican to the Pope's address last Sunday on the need of laymen to make Christianity valid. They suggest that an encyclical on modern culture might focus the reign of Paul as one of dedication to Christian laymen.
